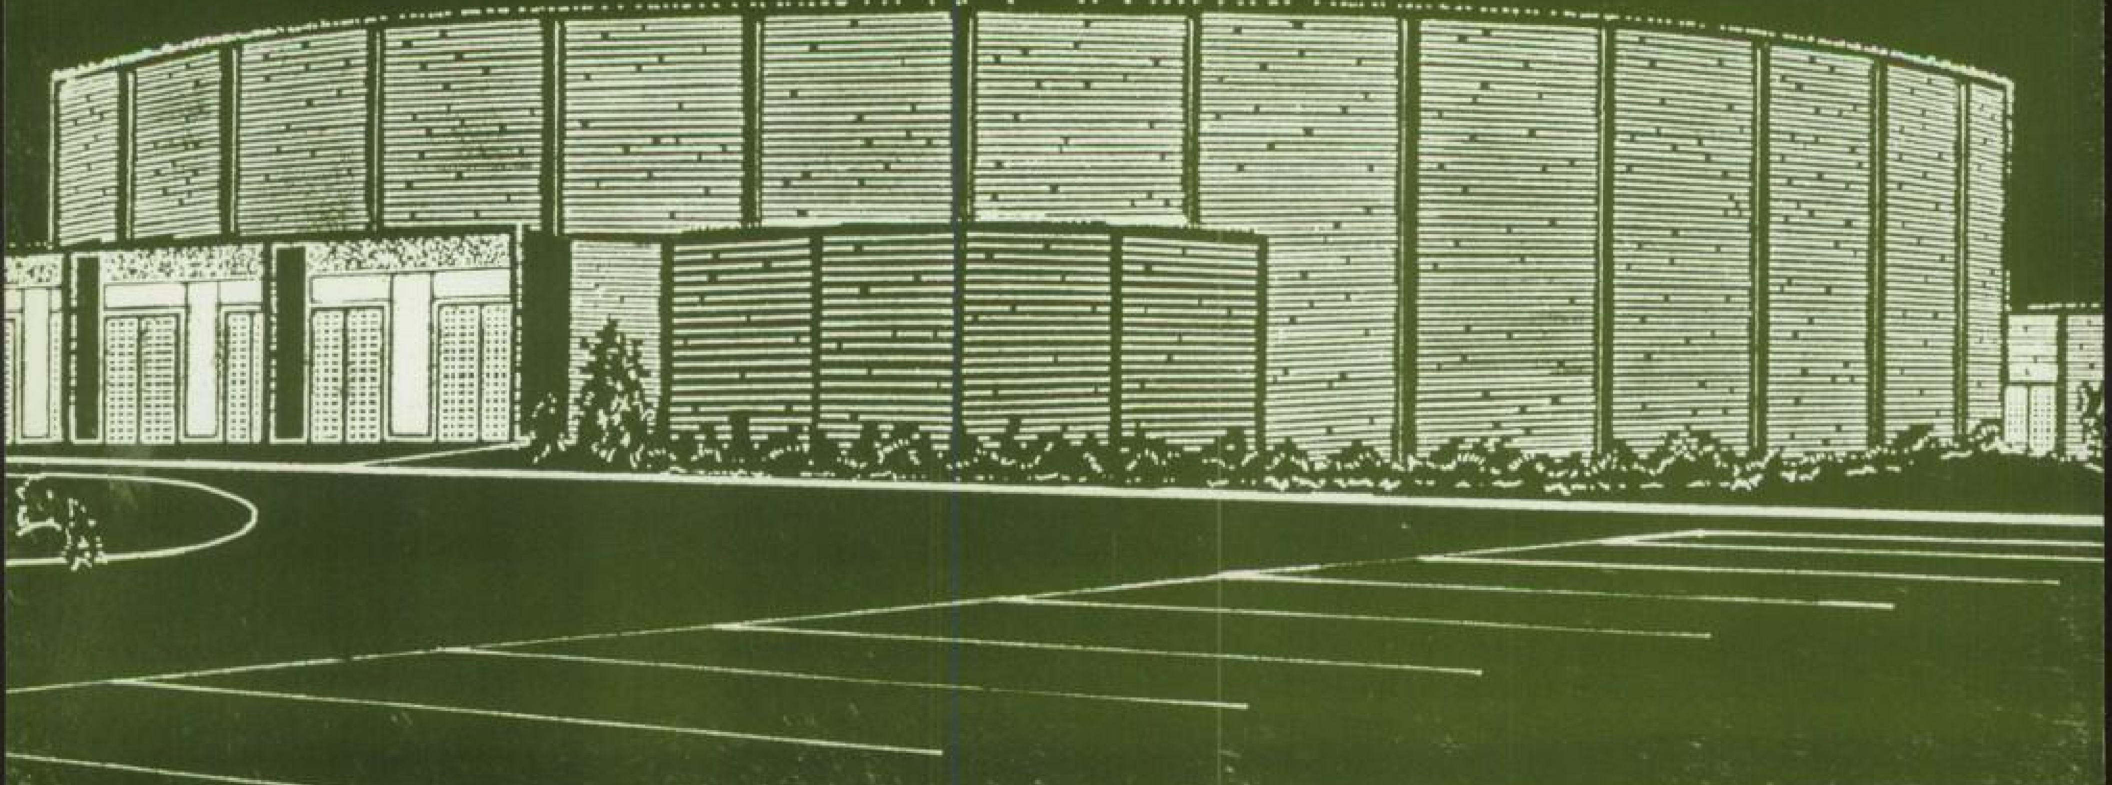
GREATER LATROBE SENIOR
HIGH SCHOOL, LATROBE
PENNSYLVANIA



Through dedicated efforts of numerous people a new senior high was built for the Greater Latrobe District. It stands as a symbol of the pride and inspiration of a progressing community.

Foreword

Looking back just one year ago, the Greater Latrobe Senior High School was nothing but seven cold empty structures sitting in the midst of rolling hills and tall trees. Today, because of the activities of 1350 lively young students, there seems to be a bright warm glow surrounding these buildings. If future faculties and students contain the gay warm-heartedness of those of this year, the buildings of this high school will continue to shine forever. The spirit of youth will preserve her.

Studying in new surroundings that included labs with the latest equipment, classrooms with attractive color schemes and comfortable desks, was conducive to learning; however, there remained one basic requirement, an honest effort by each student.

Experiences contribute to pupil development

Excitement issued forth from chemistry labs as discoveries were made by junior scientists. Busy fingers hurriedly plucked away at typewriter keys. Research became an everyday occurrence as seniors completed their orations, juniors endeavoured to find the answer to a puzzling history question and sophomores turned in Biology papers. These encounters all assisted in the forming of a student body more aware of the world in which they live.

Activities originate through student life

With the new school came new activities.
Students participated in school assemblies,
club dinners and socials, school dances, nights out at the local clubs for teenagers, and for the upperclassmen, the prom.

Classmates reflect on people, places, activities

Memories of the past year linger. Students remember many things about the new school, the classes and teachers, the fine programs in the auditorium and the paintings and posters that lined the halls. Also remembered will be the many friends made while receiving an education.

Endeavoring to instill in their students moral and spiritual values and an appreciation of the arts was the job undertaken by the 58 members of the faculty.

They occupied positions in departments ranging from mathematics to physical education. Besides regular class duties most of the teachers supervised home rooms. This entailed the recording of grades and averages on the quarterly report cards and the keeping of attendance records.

Supplementary aid was offered to students during the study halls, conference periods or after dismissal.

In the attempt to develop to the fullest capacity the individual responsibility of the pupil, the faculty members spent many hours supervising extracurricular activities. Students will always remember their effort towards making school more enjoyable.

SCHOOL DISTRICT

Looking over schedules to be posted in all classrooms are district secretaries, Miss Carol Shepler, Mrs. Marie Hvidoz, Miss Sandra Goodman, Miss Janet Marcinik and Miss Phyllis Smail.

A dream became a reality on November 6, 1966, when the new senior high school was dedicated.

The members of the administration who helped to fulfill this dream after years of planning were Superintendent David A. Snyder and Assistant Superintendent Thomas M. Kissell.

Fundamental in the six million dollar project were the efforts of the board of education. This elected body was divided into groups of committees. These different groupings investigated problems and made reports to the board for further action.

Discussing the typing and duplicating of the weekly bulletin are Mrs. Betsy Tillman and Miss Josephine Shurie, the secretarial staff members in the senior high office.

The appointed committees that functioned until January, 1967, and their members were as follows: Building Committee—George Lynch, chairman, Mr. Carl Shirey, Mr. Anthony Pesavento, Mrs. Ann Rudy, Mr. Regis Kuhn; Finance Committee—Mr. Carl Shirey, chairman, Mr. George Lynch, Mr. Jacob Bendl, Mrs. Ann Rudy, and Mr. Harry Smith; Property and Supply Committee—Mr. Anthony Pesvanto, chairman, Mr. Frank Novak, Mr. Jacob Bendl, Mr. Floyd Hixson, Mr. Regis Kuhn.

Education and Planning Committee—Mrs. Ann Rudy, chairman, Mr. Thomas Okonak, Mr. Floyd Hixson, Mr. Frank Novak, Mr. Harry Smith; Student Activities and Recreation Committee—Mr. Jacob Bendl, chairman, Mr. Thomas Okonak, Mr. Floyd Hixson, Mr. George Lynch, Mr. Regis Kuhn; Cafeteria and Transportation Committee—Mr. Floyd Hixson, chairman, Mr. Frank Novak, Mr. Anthony Pesavento, Mr. Thomas Okonak, Mr. Carl Shirey and Mr. Harry Smith.

When the term of Mr. Clarence Graham expired in Jan. Mrs. Ann Rudy was elected president.

Acting as the secretary to the board of education and the superintendent was Miss Ruth Himler. She supervised the work of the five secretaries in the district office—Mrs. Marie Hvizdos, Miss Carol Shepler, Miss Sandra Goodman, Miss Janet Marcinik and Miss Phyllis Smail.

Principal Gomer R. Edwards saw the new senior high operate efficiently as the result of his earlier planning. He directed the daily routine of the school community of more than 1300, quickly solving the problems that arised. Assistant Principal George Fabry aided in the operation of the school plant. Mrs. Betsy Tillman and Miss Josephine Shurie attended to the clerical work.

Striving to achieve speed and accuracy prime essentials of the business world, were commercial students under the direction of seven instructors. The skills acquired consisted of shorthand, bookkeeping, and typing.

The use of dictaphones enabled students to practice speed in shorthand, an important requirement. They became well acquainted with problems involved with the study of bookkeeping. Arranging manuscripts and typing letters were included in the curriculum.

To create enlightened citizens capable of accepting the responsibilities of the government which will someday be theirs was the task of eight Social Studies' teachers.

The actions and interactions of the people who have had roles on the world's stage were studied in World History classes. Here, the European influences on the United States were also brought to light.

An understanding of the past and the illumination of the future was the purpose of American History. It also showed the developements of a dream, a free nation. The difficulties in running this dream were considered in Problems of Democracy.

By using the two new language labs and all facilities, the Latin, Spanish and French teachers informed students not only about the languages but also about the cultures, civilizations and histories of the countries. The five member language department used the new equipment to instruct pupils in the finer points of the languages.

Using a tape recorder for study in Spanish are Debbie Coblentz, Becky Hibbert and Lawanda Fry while Suzanne Pavlocak, Diane Osinkoski and Stanley Kabala improve their French skills with the help of vocabulary building charts.

SCIENCE

Work of the Science Department was furthered this year with the addition of new equipment and seven new labs. Along with the biology, chemistry and physics labs is the new planetarium, with complete facilities for the study of astronomy. Students taking biology were able to work on the many projects done in the greenhouse.

The seven faculty members of the department, that had two new instructors, was headed by Miss Catherine Netzlof. The teachers strived to further the knowledge of the students and to increase their interest in the many fields of science.

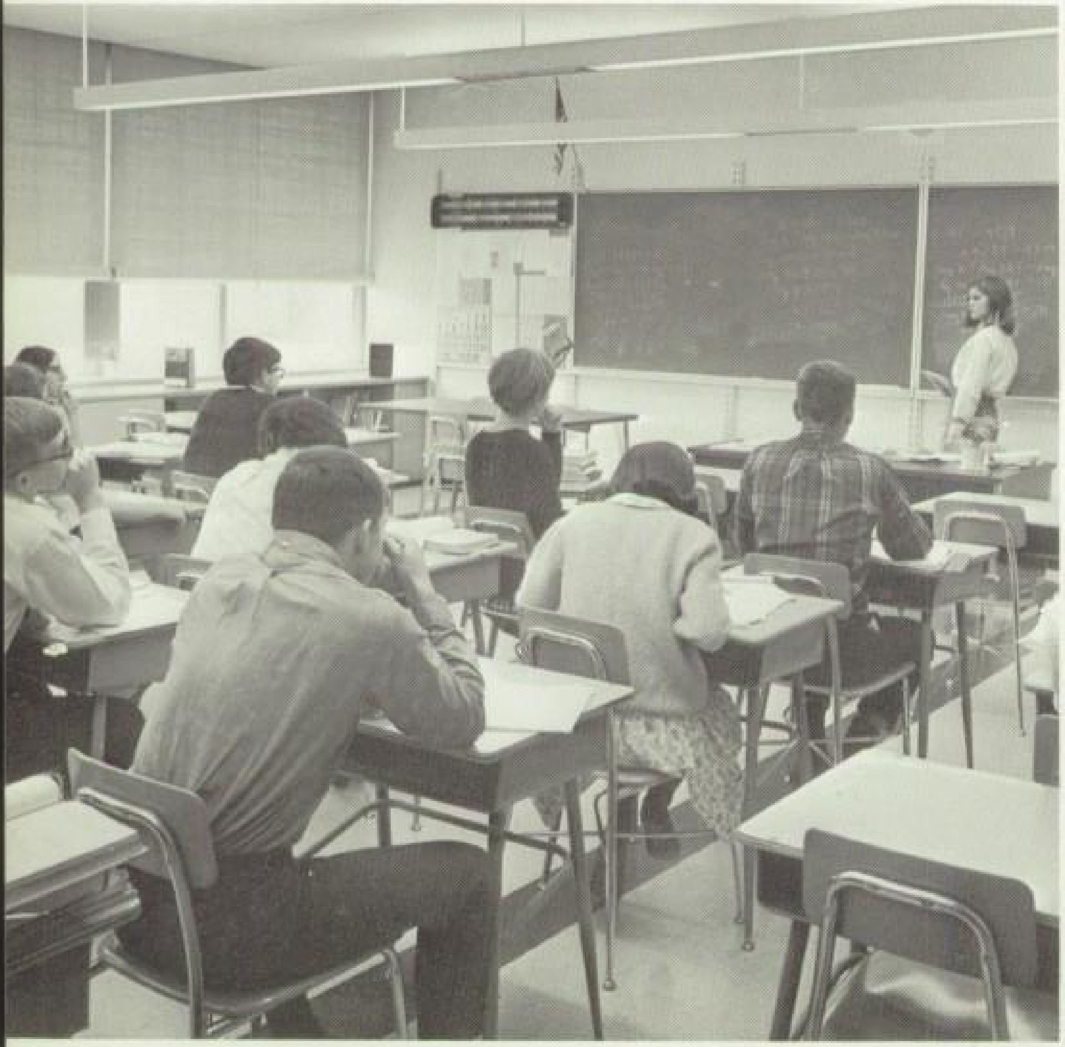
MATHEMATICS

Striving to educate their pupils in every phase of mathematics was the task of the five mathematics teachers in the department. Equipped with new facilities and educational aids, the teachers helped their students prepare for advanced math subjects.

These instructors carried out their duties in the five mathematics rooms which were housed in the Science Building, under the direction of Miss Mary Louise McBride, head of the department. The math courses were taught on both a traditional and modern basis to benefit the students according to their courses of study.

The studies included in this department were; business math for the commercial students, and related math for the home economics girls and college preparatory math. Students who studied senior math were eligible to take the 1967 Mathematics Examination. Winners of the exam were awarded a pin on Recognition Day.



As in other math classes where students are asked to explain and demonstrate their problems, Kathy Markiewicz fulfills the requirement. Viewing the graph drawn for proving a problem is Marianne Monzo.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education, an integral part of schooling, is taught through physical activity. It is not a separate field but the high school's Physical Education Department aims toward educating the entire individual. The fat, the thin, the tall, the short and the awkward are all required. to take gym twice a week.

Although in its first year of use, the senior high is considered to have some of the finest facilities and equipment available. Here at Latrobe, the four Physical Education teachers feel that it is more important to make each one aware of his own self-development so as to lead an effective, healthy and happy life. Especially in this age of automation when the body and mind must be trained to work as a whole, Physical education is important.

The pool added many new activities such as a synchronized swimming program. Girls organized various groups and performed ballet skits to such songs as "Greensleeves," "Black Magic" and the "Pink Panther." The group was named the Doll-Fins.

ENGLISH

Each of the eleven English teachers in the department have a goal and that is to help each student to master the English language and to develop an appreciation for the literary writings of yesterday and today.

Under the direction of Miss Irene Mertz, head of the English Department, these teachers try to accomplish this goal through their daily instruction in the classrooms. They offer many extracurricular activities in this field to aid and prepare their students for the future. They also encourage the students to take an interest in their English classes and activities.

They also offer an opportunity to the students to speak in front of people through oral talks.

The English Department gives their students many opportunities to participate in other activities. Three plays are conducted each year in order to give the student body some experience in the field of dramatics. The forensic activities include orations, Extemps and the Womens Club Contest. Students who desire are given the chance to enter different essay contests.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Instructors in the Industrial Arts Department were concerned with teaching the care and operation of tools used in the vocational fields.

The wood and electronics shop is equipped with the latest instructional machinery. In the electronics laboratory, boys learned the basics of electronic devices. Some of the wood projects completed this year included lamps, tables and gun cabinets.

By working with milling machines, drill presses, lathes, and acetalene torches, the students were taught to use standard industrial equipment in the metal shops.

The goal of students in the Mechanical Drawing classes was to learn the graphic language of industry. Compasses and T-squares were employed to make and read working drawings and blue prints.

In an effort to aid not only in the healthy development of the mind, but of the body as well, Greater Latrobe Senior High School had a coordinated plan of physical care for all students.

Aiding school physician, Dr. F. Clay Gibson in administrating these health services were 8 other medical examiners. Mrs. Lois Shirey, head school nurse was available at all times for any needs which should arise.

Among the services furnished to students were complete medical examinations given to all in the eleventh grade. Vision screening tests are administered to the entire student body annually. Auditory tests are also conducted in the eleventh grade. Any defectiveness is reported to the pupils parents or guardian.

In addition to the medical examiners 3 dental examiners were available. A school dental clinic was held every Tuesday sponsored by the local Kawanis Club. Included in the new facilities of the school are special rooms accessible to all students who are ill.

The meals, which consisted of meat, a vegetable, fruit, milk, and baked desserts, were served daily. Only once every five or six weeks were the menus repeated. Weekly lunch tickets were used for a more efficient operation in the cafeteria.

While waiting to be served a nourishing lunch in the high school cafeteria, a line of hungry students talk about the good smelling meal and the day's events.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

A brief glance at the Greater Latrobe Senior High School revealed that the job of the custodial staff was carried out to perfection.

Under the supervision of Mr. Charles Vogel, the thirteen members comprising the staff had a 24-hour job of maintenance. Each person had a specific phase of work to perform daily.

Included in the work of the custodians was the caring for the landscape surrounding the school, taking care of school supplies, and supervising in the lunchroom. Daily cleaning of the classrooms was also a part of their duties.

Ladies of the custodial staff, Miss Mary Baran, Miss Martha Barlock and Miss Loretta Mills examine some of the new equipment used in their daily work. John Firment and Leroy Palmer stand by a new type of cleaner that is used in the classrooms. Talking over cleaning tasks for the coming week are Mrs. Virginia Goodman, Mrs. Catherine Wadsworth, Miss Louise Mills and Mrs. Mary Koval. They are pictured in the supply room.

Looking back over the 1966–1967 school year, the student body remembers daily classes, homework assignments and many extracurricular activities.

Through clubs such as the MLC, Biology, Business Education, History and Mu Alpha Theta students could probe further into their fields of interest. Activities in the form of dramatics, a broadway musical, forensics and publications gave pupils an opportunity to put forth their amateur skills in the best of fashions. The Poster Club, Junior Red Cross, the Candy Stripers and other service groups not only contributed their help to the high school but also to the entire community.

Besides presenting the opportunity to make new friends, extra activities help students to gain self-control, development and social poise when among others.

PUBLICATIONS

Phyllis McCarthy, editor-in-chief of this year's "Latrobean," considers opinions voiced by Susan Ashley, literary editor, and Tom Myers, assistant editor, on possible changes in this year's annual.

With the sounds of typewriters clicking in the background, stories were proofread and advertisements were laid out for the newspaper "The High Post" and the school yearbook, the "Latrobean."

Under the direction of Mr. William R. Couchenour, the Journalism II staff produced a yearbook containing 172 pages and 11 issues of the four-page newspaper. For the first time this year the advertising, business and yearbook staffs met in an adjoining room where facilities were provided for each group. Along with the others in Journalism II, editorial staff met in room L-114 each eighth period.

Mr. Couchenour also taught the Journalism I class in which the pupils were instructed the different material they will use in their future journalism work. They were shown what is expected of them when writing, reading or gathering information.

Last year both the yearbook and school newspaper received awards. The High Post was the recipient of the Keystone Award, while the Latrobean earned a first place in the Columbia service. Senior members of the Journalism II staff also received awards when they entered in the state writing competition.

Journalists compile year's record in publications

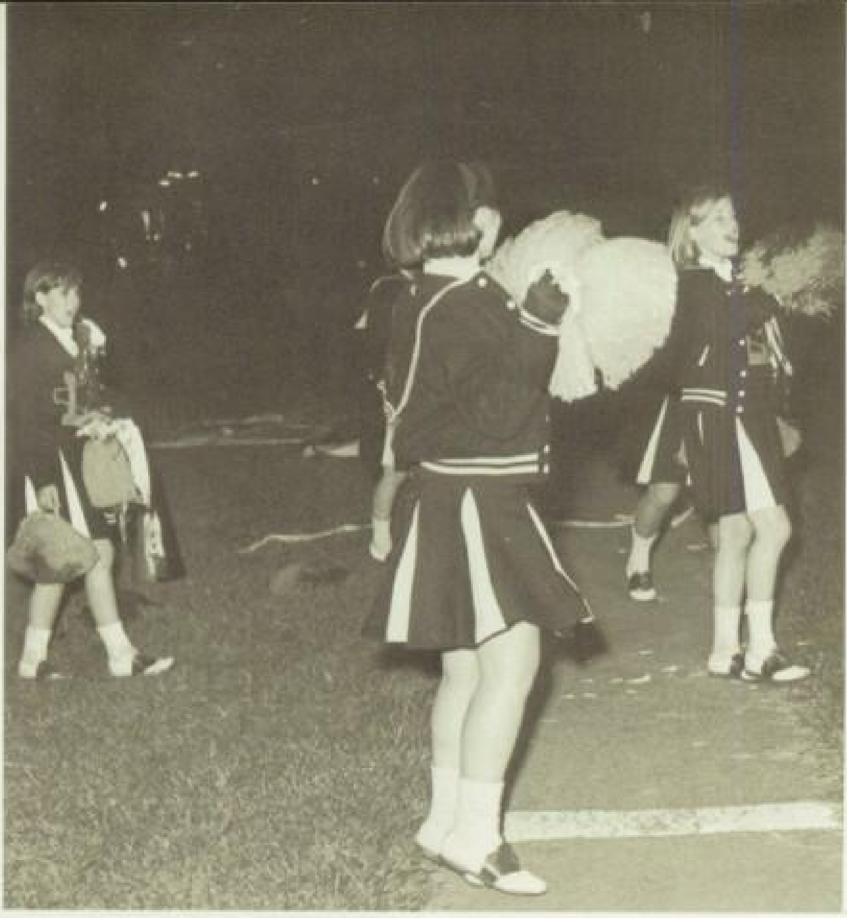
Business managers Irene Watkins and Brenda Clark with assistants Diane Sherer and Sandra Rullo discuss journalism bookkeeping with typists Kit Newmeyer and Karen Myers. Junior reporters Michele Stouffer, Linda Irwin, Leona Stien, Ruth Ellen Gallagher, Janice Luttner and Peggy Watson review rules of style. Carol Mullen, Linda Adams, Lucanne Kachmarik, Claudia Kelley and Tracy Newmyer correct yearbook copy.

ORGANIZATIONS



After the completion of a Wildcat pass, cheerleaders Irene Watkins, Carol Ballash and Barb Cline spark enthusiasm of the student body for the hard-hitting local grid squad.

CHEERLEADERS—To arouse enthusiasm and create school spirit among students at athletic events were the goals for the cheerleaders.

Acting as the varsity cheerleading squad were seniors Irene Watkins, head; Barbara Cline, Joanne Pagnanelli and Janice Regula. Carol Ballash, Kathy Hricik, Eileen Kelly and Anita Oeschger made up the junior members of the varsity squad.

During football season the cheerleaders led the weekly pep assemblies, and were also present at football, basketball and wrestling contests to lead cheers. Mrs. Mary Lou Zahuranic and Mrs. Nancy Vincze aided the girls as advisors.

Acting as junior varsity cheerleaders were Lori Hricik, head; Denise Deichert, Margie Frederick and Patty Morelli.

JUNIORS RED CROSS—"To give the world the best you have . . ." is the maxim followed by the 90 members of the Junior Red Cross.

In accordance with their theme ot community service, projects of magazine collection for patients of Torrance State Hospital and aiding at Shawley's Rest Home were carried out. The preparation of disaster kits for victims of fire and flood plus the recording of Christmas messages from families to members of the Armed Forces were also parts of the club's activities.

The Cornea Pledge Campaign and the work of the bloodmobile committee were club activities. Officers were as follows: Sharon David, president; Marsha Green, vice-president; Linda Adams, secretary; Marsha Blank, treasurer; and Deborah Dalton, council representative.

While discussing plans for future activities, Junior Red Cross officers Sharon David, president; and Linda Adams secretary, ask Patricia Bechtol her opinion on the club's program.

POSTER CLUB—Twenty-one members of the Poster Club aided by promoting school spirit and by advertising important school events.

The artists exhibited examples of their talent and imagination. Each month members submitted a poster and a senior home room selected the poster of the month. By submitting extra work and earning 12 points, participants received pins on Awards Day.

The posters, which illustrated social, academic, and athletic functions of the school besides national events of interest to students, were displayed throughout the corridors and in local store windows. Members also participated in the Highway Safety Poster Contest.

The officers were as follows: Edward Sledge, president; Phyllis Otto, vice-president; Janice McFadden, secretary; Cheryl Kabala, treasurer; Brian Poland, Student Council representative. Mrs. Claire Stover was the club's faculty adviser.

Ed Sledge and Phyllis Otto, members of the Poster Club, exhibit their work which was posted throughout the year in the halls to promoting school spirit.

Reviewing a procedure commonly used in higher mathematics are senior officers of this years Mu Alpha Theta: Ellen Kattan, treasurer; Marsha Campbell, vice-president; and Dennis Rafferty, president.

Attempting to further their knowledge of related fields to mathematics was the primary objective of the Mu Alpha Theta members.

Programs at the monthly meetings ranged from speeches by area college students about their experiences in college mathematics to reports by the active members dealing with special math projects. To be eligible for membership in this honorary society a student must have completed two years of math and the first semester of his junior year in a College Preparatory course with an average of at least 85 per cent.

Heading this year's organization was Dennis Rafferty, president. Other officers included the following: Marsha Campbell, vice-president; Janice McFadden, secretary, and Ellen Kattan, treasurer. Serving as adviser was Miss Mary Louise McBride, senior math instructor.

Societies arouse students' academic enthusiasm

Vincent Quatrini, president of Quill and Scroll, discusses possible society programs with other officers Joanne Pagnanelli, secretary; Ellen Kattan, vice-president and Debbie Coblentz, treasurer.

Coordinating plans for NHS initiation are the following officers: Janice Regula, vice-president; John Tomashosky, president; Raymond Kutzer, Student Council representative; Francis Tandarich, treasurer; and Paula Pristas, Secretary.

To attain membership in the Quill and Scroll is a literary and intellectual challenge met by thousands of students journalists on high school publications staffs throughout the nation.

To meet the requirements of the local chapter of the honorary society, the student jounalist must meet a required number of column inches printed besides ranking in the upper third of his chess. Those on the business and advertising staffs must be in their respective departments for two years.

The officers of the Thomas M. Whiteman Chapter were as follows: Vincent Quatrini, president; Ellen Kattan, vice-president; Joanne Pagnanelli, secretary; Debbie Coblentz, treasurer.

Qualities of scholastic ability, leadership, service and character in everyday living were the credentials to determine membership of the National Honor Society. The society considers possible students in the upper-fourth of the classes, provided they meet the other stipulations. The names were submitted to the faculty for election.

The induction ceremony was conducted May 10 for the newly elected students.

FORENSICS

Taking first prize in competition between their individual classes in the annual Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest are junior Roger Klotz, senior Thom Myers, and sophomore David Seremet. Award Winners in the Women's Club Contest, each placing first in their separate speaking categories of Poetry, Declamation, and Shakespearean Reading are Rebecca Giobbi, Susan Ashley, and Tom McFadyen.

Runners'-up positions in the Women's Club Contest were taken by Vince Quatrini in Declamations, Kathy Silvis in Poetry, and Sally Britt in Shakespearean Reading.

Ruth Robb Civic Club Debates finalists Susan Ashley and Ellen Kattan, affirmative team members, stop to consider possible arguments against those expressed by their opponents Vince Quatrini and Thom Myers.

With the beginning of the second semester, forensics became an important factor in the extracurricular activities of the student body.

All senior college preparatory students were required to submit an oration for the Rotary Oratorical Contest. From the 32 semifinalists and the eventual 8 finalists Rebecca Giobbi gained first prize for her oration, "Just Another Statistic." In it she defended the teenagers of today. "Color Me Brown—I'm Segregated," was Susan Ashley's second place oration.

Ellen Kattan's "A Change of Spectacles" and Vincent Quatrini's "The Gray Enemy" were awarded third and fourth prizes, respectively. Thomas Myers, Sally Britt, Janice Gower and Mary Poklembo received honorable mention. Adviser for this annual forensic event was Miss Irene Mertz, English instructor.

After participating in the first forensic contest held in the new senior high auditorium, Rebecca Giobbi proudly displays the school's perpetual loving cup, which she won in the forty-second annual Rotary Oratorical Contest, to her fellow oration finalists Susan Ashley, Ellen Kattan, Mary Polkembo, Thom Myers, Vincent Quatrini Jr., Janice Gower, and Sally Britt.

Junior Roger Klotz captured first place in the Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. Under the main topic of "The Image of the United States in a Changing World" Roger spoke on "Our Image in Asia." Thomas Myers, senior and David Seremet, sophomore were the other class winners. Vincent Quatrini, senior, Louis Dolinar, junior and Elaine Aukerman, sophomore, were the runners-up.

"Resolved: That the foreign aid policy of the United States be limited to non-military assistance," was the topic of the twenty-seventh annual Ruth Robb Debate. The negative team of Thomas Myers and Vincent Quatrini was victorious over the affirmative opponents, Ellen Kattan and Susan Ashley. Serving as faculty supervisor for this event was Mrs. Eleanor Gadd.

The negative team upheld the importance of military aid for the defense of the United States while the affirmatives contended that economic aid would be more helpful. Susan Moresch, senior, was student chairman of the event with Linda Adams, junior, the timekeeper.

Speaking talents were exhibited by 35 registering students in the three divisions of the Women's Club Contest: poetry, declamation and Shakespearean Readings. "The Creation" was Susan Ashley's winning poem. Rebbecca Giobbi won the declamation division with "Your Prayers are Requested," while Thomas McFadyen did selections from Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

Kathryn Silvis, sophomore, and seniors Vincent Quatrini and Sally Britt were second in poetry, declamations and Shakespeare, respectively. Linda Zeltner, sophomore, was student chairman. Serving as adviser for the Women's Club contest was Mrs. Louanne Love.

SERVICE GROUPS

PUBLICATIONS REPRESENTATIVES—Through the efforts of the Publications Representatives, the annual subscription campaign exceeded its goal.

Commencing their duties, the elected representatives begin the subscription drive in September, striving for 100 per cent in subscriptions for the home rooms. During the 1967 campaign, 1085 subscriptions were tallied with 12 home rooms achieving 100 per cent with 11 of these senior rooms.

The 40 seniors, juniors and sophomores distribute "The High Post" eleven times during the year. On the final day of school they also distribute the "Latrobeans." Mr. William R. Couchenour, publications adviser, supervised the representatives.

After checking the home room list, Publications Representative Steve Scheeren matches it with copies as Bonnie Murphy and Craig Chamberlain prepare "The High Posts" for distribution.

While making his rounds, John Cramer, student service member, stops to confer with Alice Bell, a fellow member, about an incident that occurred where he is stationed.

STUDENT SERVICE—By making themselves available at stations throughout the school, some sophomores, juniors and seniors performed the duties of the Student Service.

During each period of the day, these members were positioned at desks throughout the buildings. The students assisted visitors to our school, checked hall passes, reported any unusual occurrences and saw to it that school laws were obeyed.

Convenient schedules and good grades comprised basic requirements to be a part of this group. Under the supervision of Assistant Principal George Fabry, members were able to make helpful suggestions for the improvement of the school and for the maintenance of safe surroundings.

Mr. Fabry believes that the student body should appreciate the work of the Student Service and realize their many responsibilities.

FIRE PATROL—Making certain the school was completely evacuated and all safety precautions taken were among the duties of the fire patrol.

The size of the new building was a factor in the responsibility of this service group. They checked to make certain students were out of rooms, lights were off and the classroom doors closed.

The patrol of twelve boys were assigned to the different buildings. Boys involved in this volunteer work were Steve Davis, John Glitsky, Carl Janson, Thomas Kiebler, Larry Mann, James Nace, Leroy Nicholson, Harry Keefe, Albert Paulik, Paul Rudy, Paul Schum and Thomas Taylor.

To insure safety throughout the building the boys took measures to check all rooms during each fire drill. Mr. Robert Cook served as adviser to the patrol.

During one of the fire drills, fire patrol members Tom Taylor and Paul Rudy check to see that the school building is safely and completely evacuated in time.

LATROBE H·S

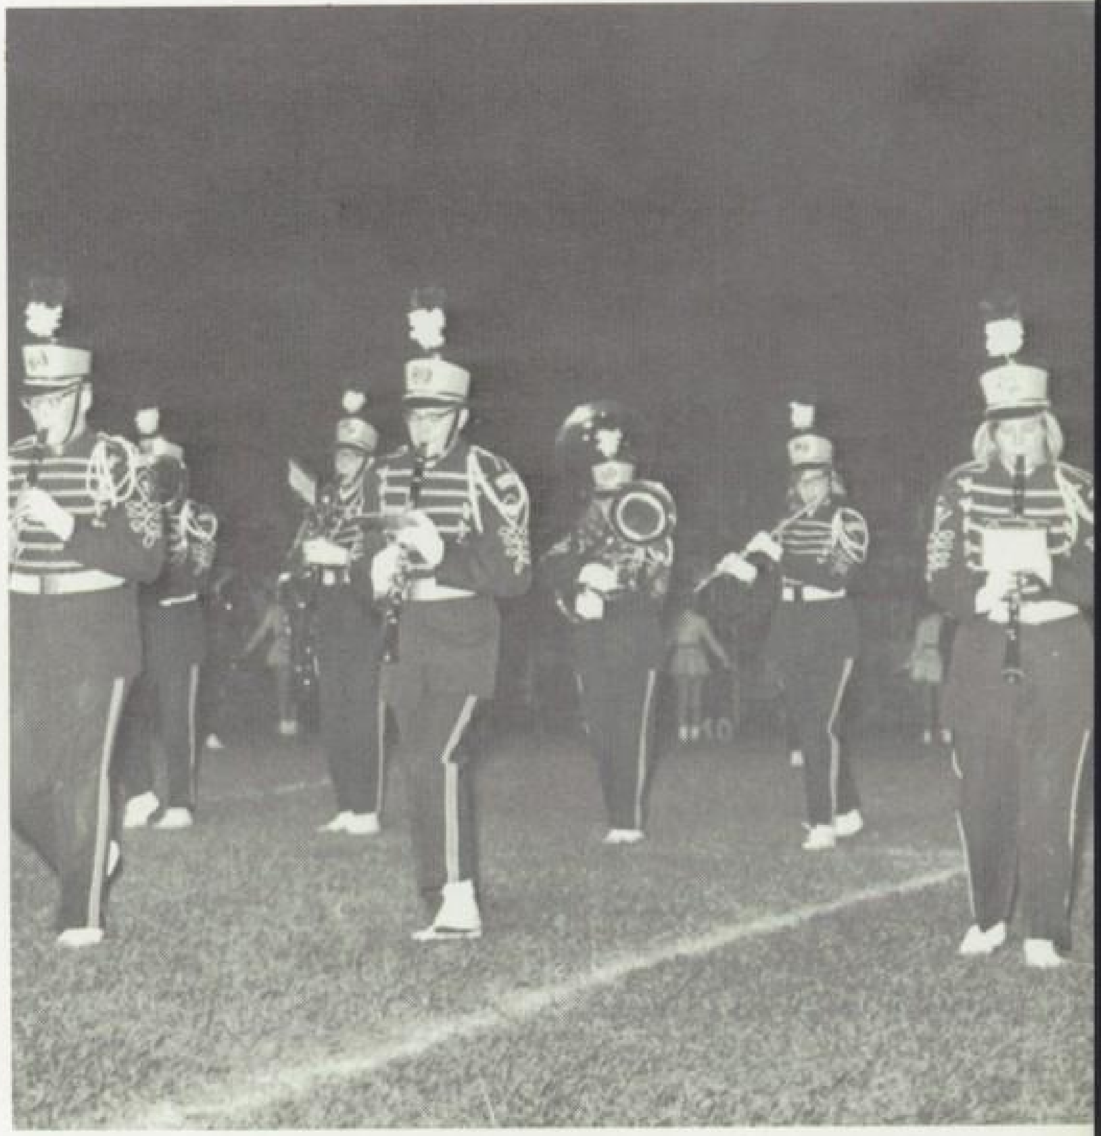
Wildcat Band performs in half-time productions

Friedrich Nietzsche, a nineteenth century German philosopher once wrote, "Without music life would be a mistake." The 70 Wildcat band members provided music to enrich the lives of those who have heard them.

At each football game, whether heralding a Latrobe score with "Cheer for Latrobe," or merely sounding "Charge," band members waited for the halftime program. Then they presented music selections and routines prepared by long hours of practice. Pep assemblies provided experience for band members while encouraging school spirit.

With the onset of winter marching gave way to daily practice sessions. Occasionally the band participated in a community parade. Participation in the District and County Band festivals were included in the activities of several members. Pins for four year service, the John Philip Sousa award and the Kiwanis award were presented to outstanding musicians.

Latrobe's majorettes provided entertainment with twirling batons. Head majorette was senior Beverly DeVitto. Senior members included Mildred Lazur, Pat Steele, Marlene Myers, Ellen Oderisio, Kathy Zurick, Doreen Deeley and Barbara Slate.



Striding across the field in time to a lively march, members of Greater Latrobe Wildcat Band proudly exhibit their skill in making formations and playing. Daily practice added to the perfecting of their performance and drills.

VOCAL GROUPS

GIRLS' CHORUS I—Musical experience was acquired by approximately 45 sophomore girls taking part in Girls' Chorus I.

An interest in vocal music and no other subject scheduled eighth period were the requirements set by Mr. Joseph Del Sordo, chorus director. They participated in the same activities as the Mixed Chorus and Girls' Chorus II. Working on selections for the Spring Programs and the Christmas program required much practice.

Accompaniment on the piano for songs including "Moon River" and "Sound of Music" was provided by Diane Kontor, sophomore.

GIRLS' CHORUS II—In preparing selections for the annual vocal spring concert and related community events, the Girls' Chorus II was busy.

Along with the Mixed Chorus, this group attended the movie, "Sound of Music," at the Nixon theater in Pittsburgh during November. Singing at Thanksgiving and Christmas assembly programs provided experience for this choral group.

This year the Girls' Chorus II was under the direction of Mr. Joseph Del Sordo, head of the Choral Music Department. Sacred along with Show music were among the types of selections presented throughout the year.

Membership to Girls' Chorus II is available to all eleventh and twelfth grade girls. Admission depends on the level of accomplishment of the student, a pleasing voice, and a desire to participate in activities. Girls' Chorus II, being an elective, has approximately 55 members.

MIXED CHORUS—Performing for community organizations, singing at the Greater Latrobe Senior High School dedication ceremonies, the Christmas program, the spring concert and exchange assemblies highlighted this year's agenda for the Mixed Chorus.

For the first time a Chorus Council was organized. Officers were as follows: Dave Rollins, president; Phyllis McCarthy, vice-president; Rene Ottino, secretary; Randy Ferguson, treasurer; Dennis Schirf, publicity chairman; Jeanne Mekic, Sharon David and David Buncie, librarians; Tanya Geters and George Janic, robe attendants.

Representatives from chorus participated in County, District and Regional choruses. Students must have participated in County Chorus before they were eligible for District and Regional.

Discussing selections for an assembly are the first officers elected by the mixed chorus: Randy Ferguson, treasurer; Rene Ottino, secretary; David Rollins, president; and Phyllis McCarthy, vice-president.

Taking time out during rehearsal to discuss the beat of the selections which they are practicing are Elaine Auckerman, Susan Patterson, Dorothy Morley, David Johnson and Susan Thomaskosky.

Supplying musical entertainment for all school plays, forensic events and the annual Spring Instrumental Concert was the orchestra. Under the direction of Mr. William Tepper, the 35 members practiced selections that included "Rhapsody in Green" and "Shenandoah" three periods a week.

Students interested in gaining admission to the orchestra applied for membership in the spring of last year. Tryouts were held to determine those with the necessary musical ability.

Representatives from Greater Latrobe Senior High School at the District Orchestra were Jeanne Washnock, Joyce Dix, and Susan Tomashosky, violin, and John Bush, String bass.

On Awards Day, along with other students of the Music Department, the orchestra members were commended for their performance throughout the school year. Sophomore members received certificates and juniors were awarded letters. Lapel pins were given to the seniors.

STAGE BAND

Under a new name and director in the music department this year was the stage band. The director was Mr. William Tepper.

As a result of tryouts held before Christmas 16 members were selected to comprise the group. Included were three trumpet players, three trombonists, four saxophone players, a bass player, pianist and drummer. The saxophone section was divided into tenor, alto, and baritone sections.

On different occasions during the school year, the stage band performed. Included in these performances were the musical production, "Li'l Abner", and the instrumental concert in the spring.

The stage band was previously called the dance band and played for several concerts presented by the music department. Music for the stage band varies from the popular types to modern jazz and dixieland. Practices were scheduled for different times during school hours and after dismissal in the bandroom.

In addition to their regular practices with the orchestra, Edward Frederico, John Bush and William Frye find time to work out a routine in their spare time.

CLUBS

BIOLOGY CLUB—Encouraging students to perfect their skills in laboratory science and to increase the knowledge of the biological sciences were the primary goals of the Biology Club.

The 138 member organization, in it's sixth year of existence, sponsored programs featuring speakers of biological careers in medicine and research. Field trips to Buhl Planetarium, Phipps Conservatory and Zidel Greenhouse were among the programs. Special meetings were held on the second Monday of each month to discuss student research papers and reports of committees.

The Biology Club is affiliated with the Future Scientists of America Program, Science Clubs of America and the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science. Requirements for membership in the Biology Club are a grade of 85 or better in biology at the end of the first quarter and passing grades in all school subjects.

Aiding Miss Virginia A. Daniels, instructor, this year were the club officers: John Slivosky, president; Tom Gray, vice-president; Carol Fallecker, secretary; Martin Korzak, treasurer; and Michele O'Barto, Student Council representative.

USHER'S CLUB—By distributing programs, directing patrons to their seats, and helping in public debating and dramatic productions, the ushers rendered a valuable service to the school and community.

Composed of 20 volunteer girls under the supervision of Miss Catherine Netzlof, the chief requirement for this group was dependability. Other qualifications included neatness, promptness and each girl must have been a junior or senior.

Since this is a service organization, the ushers held no formal meetings and elected no officers to represent the group. However, head ushers were chosen. Presiding this year were Carol Sherer and Kathy Bloom. After two years of service, each girl can receive a felt emblem of recognition from Miss Netzlof on Awards' Day.

LIBRARIANS—Pupils using the new library were aware of the everyday efforts of the student librarians. In preparation for the opening of the new facilities they were kept busy arranging and cataloguing books for more than six weeks under the direction of Miss Mary Fultz, librarian.

Twenty-two girls checked books in and out and surveyed pupil attendance. In addition to processing new books and magazines, they helped their fellow students to local reference work. The typing of catalogue cards and other special items was also among their duties.

Miss Fultz feels that this year's librarians should be commended for the extra work they did. "After all," she said, "student librarians aren't usually expected to help set-up an entire library."

Assisting with the duties of an usher, Kathy Bloom and Debbie Marshall hand out programs for the Senior Oratorical Contest while Carol Sherer, another usher looks on.

Arranging the index cards in alphabetical order, assistant librarians Vivian Hamilton and Joyce Mercinko lend a helping hand to fellow librarians Marsha Green, Janice Keys and Lisa Hauser.

Brian Pohland, Rose Hoke, and Patty Connely work diligently in order to complete decorations for the first of several school dances sponsored by the Council each year.

Members run concession stand, sponsor dances

This Student Council completed its forty-fourth year of service to the students with several accomplishments.

During this year the 43 council members and Mr. James R. Beatty, faculty adviser, provided a service at many school events. In their function as a student government, they helped administration and pupils work together. Proceeds from Council-sponsored activities continued to build up a legacy to the school and community—a $90,000 contemporary art collection.

The Council played an important part in the dedication of the new school building in November. As part of the ceremony, William Dundore, Council president, made a speech of appreciation on behalf of the student body. He thanked the building authority, schoolboard and taxpayers for their contributions to the new school and expressed hope that the students would take care of it. Other Council members served as guides during the open house that followed.

Throughout the year the membership performed numerous necessary services. At football, basketball and wrestling matches, they operated the concession stands. Checkroom service was furnished at the dedication, plays, and other school functions.

During school hours, lost articles could be reclaimed at the "Lost and Found" office. The Council also sponsored the annual "Sadie Hawkins" in February.

Arranging trophy cases in an attractive manner throughout the school was one of the duties carried out by Student Council members, Barry Fleming, Paul Sweeney, and Kevin Fiorini.

"Is it straight?" asks William Dundore, Student Council president, as he and Gregory Shock, vice-president, care for one of the numerous paintings under the concern of the Student Council. Students pause at the refreshment stand where Barry Baldonieri, Student Council representative, and Paul Sweeney, treasurer, worked during home football games. This stand is found at the end of the permanent seating section.

Displaying some of the publicity used for the annual Modern Language Club bowling tournament during the regular monthly meeting are Sally Britt, Tom Frederick and Joanne Pagnanelli.

SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY—Approximately 40 students who maintained a high scholastic average in Spanish were initiated into the Spanish National Honor Society in February.

To encourage active participation and interest in the Spanish language was the aim of the organization. Guest speakers conducted meetings about Spanish culture. Forming after the completion of the first semester membership was open to all Spanish students who met the qualifications as stated in the constitution of the honor society for secondary schools.

The requirements complied with allowed tenth and eleventh grade students with a minimum average of 90 to join. Seniors were admitted with an average of 85 or more. Miss Brenda Brownfield advised the organization which completed its fourth year as a local school activity.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB—Broadening the Spanish and French languages the Modern Language Club offers students a chance to express themselves and enjoy the club's activities as well.

This year the organization was headed by Thomas Frederick, president; Joanne Pagnanelli, vice-president; Sally Britt, secretary; Kathy Hricik, treasurer and Karen Sylvis as Student Council representative.

The club engaged in a bowling tournament held early in January. Trophies in top prizes were awarded to juniors Wayne Stepanic with the high three-game total of 566 and Harrian Burd with a total of 433.

The club's executive board meets regularly to discuss upcoming events. They nominated a king, queen, prince, princess and ladies-in-waiting for the annual Mardi Gras.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY—Twenty-two students were initiated into the French National Honor Society during the second semester of the school year.

Mrs. Claire Stover, faculty adviser, organized the society in Latrobe High School four years ago. It is sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French. Members inducted into the organization at an Initiation Tea, were selected by their academic records. A 90 per cent or higher average was required for the admission of seniors, while juniors and sophomores needed a 92 per cent or higher average.

In addition to studying the French language, the students also explored the history and customs of the people. Striving to stimulate interest in French was the theme of the organization's programs.

"Vive la France" runs through the minds of French National Honor Society members Janice McFadden, Jane Neely, Susan Moersch and Sandi McFeaters as they examine the French Tri-Color.

SERVICE GROUPS

LAB STAFF—Late in February a new service organization was organized. The language lab staff consisted of approximately 22 boys who aided classes using the French, Spanish and Latin language laboratories.

This facility was employed for the first time this year to help students gain experience in the oral side of a language through listening and responding to tapes. One boy was present every period in each lab.

Duties of the staff members included setting up tapes and cartridges needed, copying tapes and helping in case of mechanical difficulties. When their services weren't necessary, the boys remained in the lab, using the time as a study hall.

The staff worked under the supervision of Miss Gail Nugent and Mrs. Claire Stover in the French lab, Miss Nancy Frye and Miss Brenda Brownfield in the Spanish department and Mr. Raymond Halula in the Latin classes. The Lab Staff proved helpful.

STAGE CREW—Serving their fellow student by performing the manual and technical aspects of staging at school functions including assemblies, plays, forensics and the musical programs were 11 stage crew members.

The maintenance of the stage was their main concern. They set-up scenery for the plays risers for the music assemblies and the necessary props for honor roll, guidance and special assemblies.

With the new auditorium came new techniques that were learned in lighting, curtain arrangements and props. Stage lighting was blended from a finger tip control panel and ten separate sets of curtains and hung scenery were operated from the controls.

Members of this volunteer organization were selected on their merit both for their ability as technicians and academic standing. They were under the direction of faculty advisors Mr.Harry Graham, Mr. Samuel Lawson and Mr. George Klim.

Staffs aid language students, relate school news

While Bob McIntyre taps the gong to signal the beginning of another broadcast, Susan Ottino, Patty Palanko, and Mary Lou Oshnock review the scripts they have written.

BROADCASTING—As a true asset to the functioning of the school, this year's Broadcasting II class served to inform students and faculty with highlights of important news.

During homeroom periods each Monday and Thursday, the staff enlightened the school of different activities, contests, meetings, sports, and special announcements. Serving as the news editor was Paula Pristas, while Janice Regula acted as script editor. Maintaining the position of sports editor was Joe Dudzinsky. Phyllis Otto was the technician.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Louise McBride, faculty adviser, the staff put into use the techniques learned in Broadcasting I for efficient delivering of the bi-weekly broadcasts. Among the facilities offered this year for use of the group was a separate broadcasting room. This room aided in the clearer reception of the broadcasts for students.

As an added feature to their regularly scheduled broadcasts, members of the class presented as its annual Christmas drama, "A Child is Born." During the holidays a tape of the play was re-played by a local radio station.

Members of the staff also participated in the "Voice of Democracy" contest.

DRAMATICS

"Stranger in the Night", a three-act mystery-comedy that centered on a murder plot was the All Class Play.

Grant Perry, played by Don Johnson, was a young newspaper columnist who stumbled onto the scheme and tried to thwart it. In the final scene, a lady wrestler, played by Susan Ashley, enacts a hilarious revenge.

Other characters were Faith Ann Fiorina, Linda Eupizi, Louis Dolinar, John Bush, Cheryl Duranko, Barry Wagner, Lisa Hauser, Mary Poklembo, John Underwood and Jo Ann Hovanec. Student director was Denise Nagel.

Jane Neely and Jim Okonak, who play major roles in the Senior Class Play rehearse their lines backstage in preparation for the production, "Night of January 16th."

Linda Irwin practices her entrance on the specially constructed stairway while Edward Rowlings and Jean Drummond, fellow cast members, mark scripts for scenes where the stairs will be used.

Class productions give valuable acting experience

The Junior Class play, "Mother is a Freshman," involved a peculiar scholarship—the recipient's first two names had to be "Abigail Fortitude" to qualify.

When Mother's husband dies and mismanagement of money leaves her broke, this scholarship is the only way for the attractive Mrs. Abigail Fortitude Abbot, Michele Vito, to support herself while putting her daughter, Susan, played by Linda Irwin through college. While attending Pointer College, she falls in love with her daughter's zoology professor, played by Allan Sipe.

Other roles were portrayed by Jean Drummond, Jean Mekic, Kathy Hrick, Sandy McFeaters, Beth Paull, Sandie Rullo, Jace Cute, Jim Maron, Barry Wagner, Dave Leonard, and Ed Rawlings. Louis Dolinar filled the student director's position.

The Senior Class production "Night of January 16," was based on the murder trial of Karen Andre. Miss Andre was being tried for the murder of her boss, Bjorn Falkner.

Boys enacting roles were Tom Myers, Vince Quatrini, Jim Okonak, Barry Helfferich, Pete Ulishney, Randy Ferguson, Dave Fagan, Larry McIlnay, John Underwood, Bruce Neilson, Jerry Franks, Ron Ulishney, Paul Rowe and Frank Watson.

Girls who participated were Jane Neely, Marsha Campbell, Debbie Ashley, Susie Ashley, Sally Britt, Pat Torock, Barbara Cline, Debbie Coblentz, Sandy Shirey, and Pam Verneau. Student director was Mary Poklembo.

ORGANIZATIONS

PEP CLUB—Looking back on the 1966-67 school term, members of the Pep Club recall a year in which they successfully cheered the teams to victories in the different sports.

Students responsible for various activities were the officers: Sharon David; president; Jackie Cochran, vice-president; Eleanor Hamilton, secretary; Linda Noel, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Louise Zacuranik and Mrs. Nancy Vintze, faculty advisers, aided the club by helping to plan its events.

By boosting school spirit and supporting the teams, the Pep Club created greater interest in the student body for athletics and urged the players to greater efforts.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA—Entertaining the faculty at the Teachers Valentine Tea, holding an Easter Party for children and having a style show were among the activities of the local FHA chapter.

Canned goods prepared by the girls along with various sewing projects were entered in the Pennsylvania Farm Show last January. Sixteen girls worked towards their Junior and chapter Degrees.

Officers assisting Miss Mary Overly, faculty adviser, were as follows: Barbara Shank, president; Becky Guy, vice-president; Ruth Guidos, secretary; Sandy Miller, treasurer; Myra Swieczkowski, historian; and Joanne D'Angelo, Student Council.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB—Among the main projects of this year's Business Education Club was its assistance in the Muscular Dystrophy Drive by distributing canisters in area business places.

Miss Florence Gill supervised the club whose purpose was to provide additional education in the business field and acquaint the members with people in the business range. All juniors and seniors who were enrolled in the commercial course were eligible for membership.

Presiding officers this year were as follows: Millie Lazur, president; Marianne Mrozinsky, vice-president; Leane Falbo, secretary; Loretta Fajt, treasurer; and Beverly Papuga, student council representative.

Striving to better themselves, their teams and the records, Wildcat athletes developed physically as well as mentally during the calendar of sporting contests.

Eight interscholastic sports were offered to students, with swimming appearing on the program for the first time. Boys could participate were football, basketball, wrestling, cross-country, track, golf and tennis. Girls participated on the intramural rifle team. Other intramural teams for the girls were in basketball, and volleyball.

When strong efforts enabled the athlete to meet established requirements, athletes were presented a letter. This award represented the credit due to the performer who had shown the right attitude, the spirit and the diligence in following the rules of good sportsmanship.

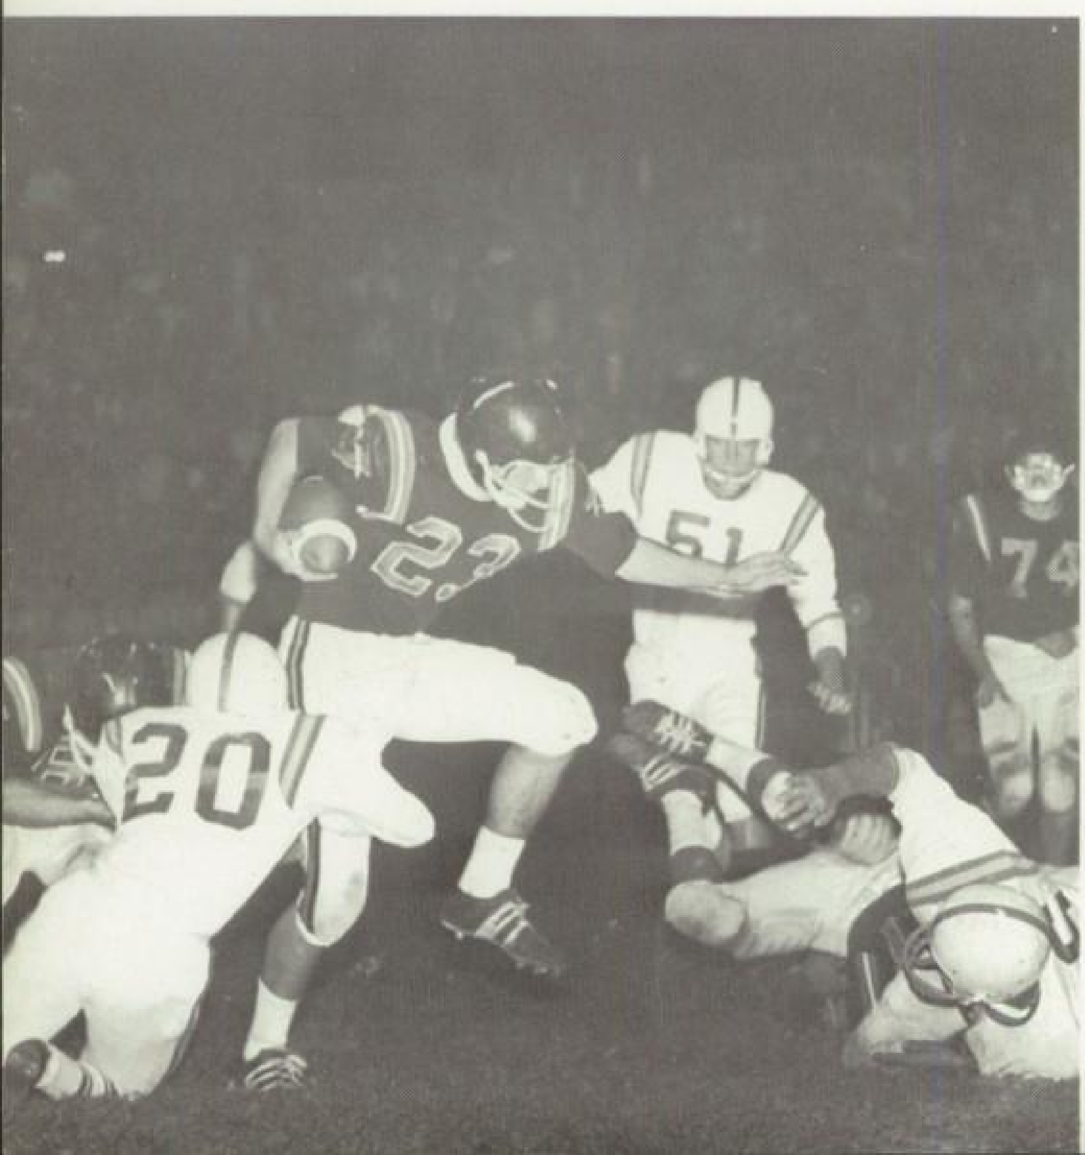
FOOTBALL

After winning the initial three games of the season, the 1966 Greater Latrobe Wildcat football team found a victory hard to capture. The Cats fell victim to the next four out of six opponents.

Although the Wildcats were unable to repeat as Foothills champions, they registered a winning year by finishing the 1966 campaign with a respectable 4-4-1 slate. In the opening contest of the season, Latrobe crushed the Schenley Spartans 46-12. In the first quarter, Kevin McCallen opened the scoring, sprinting 21 yards with a pitchout. During the second stanza Latrobe scored three times. The Orange and Black recorded three more TDs in the fourth frame on runs by Jim. Okonak, Bill Okonak, and Frank Gondas.

Derry Area provided the opposition for the first "AA" and Foothills action. The game was the varsity's most dramatic victory of the season. Senior quarterback Jim Okonak threw and ran for two of Latrobe's three tallies in the 19-13 win. McCallen added the third score. In the final three minutes Okonak, on passes to Denny Repko and Denny Koslesky, charged down to the Derry one. The quarterback scored on the next play.



Opposing tacklers momentarily slow down a Wildcat ground drive as halfback Bill Karazsia searches in vain for an opening in the middle of the enemy defense.

Explaining details for this week's game plan to Co-athletic Director Garry Garrison and Assistant Coaches Lawrence Altimus, Richard Donati, and Joseph Howard, is football Coach Charles Findley. This marked the first year as assistant coaches for Mr. Altimus and Mr. Howard.

In its second Conference encounter, Latrobe's grid machine took on the Mt. Pleasant Vikings easily, 46-0. The Vikings couldn't reach paydirt while seven Wildcat gridders crossed the goal line. Tallying in this contest were McCallen, Repko, Joe Knaus, Bill Rhey, Tom Joseph, and Mike Skoloda.

A rain-soaked Wilkinsburg field stopped the Latrobe air attack, and the Tigers pushed and slipped their way past the Wildcats. The Tigers handed the varsity squad its first defeat of Foothills and season play. With three minutes remaining in the first half and trailing 18-0, Rick Sarnese hit Tom Joseph for a Latrobe score. Bill Karaszia added the other Wildcat tally by skirting right end for 59 yards in the final stanza.

It didn't take long for the Wildcats to regroup forces. The following Friday in a Conference tilt they set back the Jeannette Jayhawks 39-19. The gridmen scored five times in the first half. Junior Jim Harris provided a sixth Latrobe score in the fourth quarter.

In the second half of the schedule, Latrobe bowed three times in its last four contests. In the Hempfield tilt, the Spartans dominated the game with five scores. Latrobe's only touchdown in the 30-7 Foothills loss came in the final minutes of play against Hempfield reserves. Jim Harris caught a pass from Rick Sarnese at the fifteen yard-line and carried it into the endzone.

Gridders end season with losing Foothills record

Connellsville was next to defeat the Wildcats in Conference competition. By virtue of a McCallen touchdown Latrobe stayed even with the Falcons in the first stanza, but Connellsville fullback Jim Braxton broke the game open by running and passing for two TDs. The final score was 20-7.

Through three quarters of play in the Greensburg game, Latrobe led 13-0. In the final frame of the rival game, the Golden Lions came back to salvage a tie, 13 to 13. A fired-up Norwin squad downed the Wildcats in the last Foothills Conference tilt of the year.

Kevin McCallen registered the only Latrobe TD taking a Sarnese pass near the sidelines and outracing defenders to the endzone. The final was 27-6.

Although Latrobe finished the year at 4-4-1, the varsity squad headed opponents in every department except first downs. In total rushing yardage Latrobe ground out 1,507 yards against 1,437 by opposition. The Wildcat aerial attack gained 809 yards, completing 55 of 120 passes.

Adversaries found air travel more difficult aggregating only 647 yards while hitting on 51 of 134 aerials. In addition, the Latrobe secondary picked off 10 foreign passes. Denny Koslesky, varsity punter, averaged 35 yards booting the football 28 times. In other statistics the Wildcats fumbled away the pigskin 10 times during the season and were penalized 212 yards. Twenty-two boys received football letter awards.

Varsity understudies finish successful campaign

Greater Latrobe's junior varsity finished the grid schedule with three wins, one loss, and two ties under Coach Joseph Howard.

In the season opener, the jayvees met defeat at the hands of a big Hempfield squad 24-6. In winning their first game, the Latrobe reserves blanked the Ligonier understudies 33-0.

On October 3, Greensburg-Salem tied the Wildkittens 12-12 after being spotted 12 points in the first half. Latrobe trounced Gateway 20-6 for the squad's second win of the six game schedule. In the Derry Area contest, the Latrobe understudies whitewashed the little Trojans 21-0 to post their second straight victory. The attack was led by the running backs.

Against the Norwin reserves in the season finale, the little Cats scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter, but the Knights roared right back to knot the score at 13-13 to conclude the season.

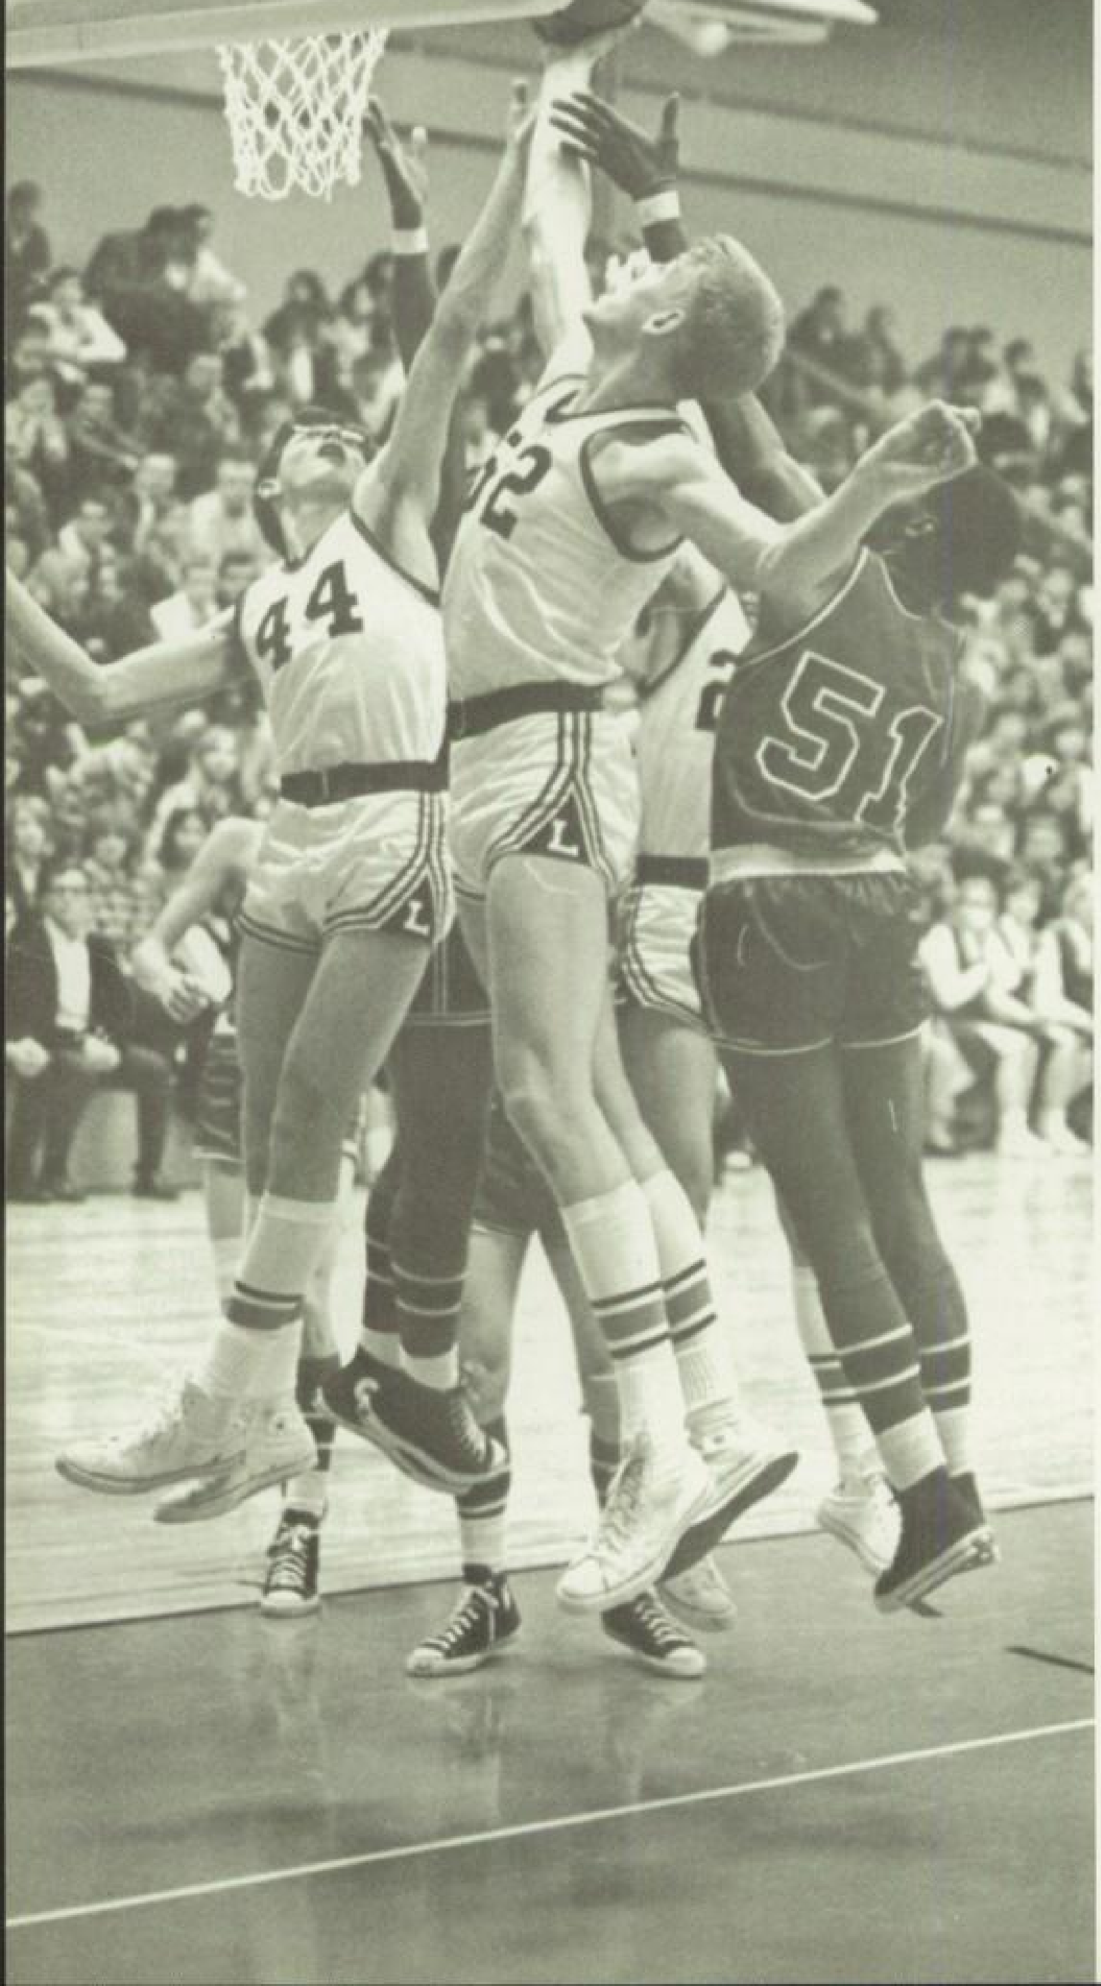
BASKETBALL



Ending the season in a second place tie with Greensburg, the Wildcat varsity finished the season with a 15–6 slate, including their Section 2-A record of eight wins and four losses.

Opening the exhibition season in November with the visiting Connellsville quintet, the Cats played to a 81–62 victory. On the home court the cagers were downed by the well known Red Raiders of Uniontown 92–61.

The Cats got back on a winning note by downing the Cavaliers of Kiski Area 82–76 December 2. In their first away game, the varsity five was defeated by Penn Hills 75–62, December 6. The Wildcat's won for the initial time on the road at Sewickley Area 78–53, December 9.

The roundballers took the tough Johnstown Trojans down to defeat 79–61 December 13. They overran the Mounties of Ligonier 77–38. The exhibition record before section play began was five wins, two losses.

Section 2-A action began for the Wildcats on December 20, when they rolled over the Lions of Greensburg 74–55.

With eyes concentrated on the basket Tim Donahey drives downcourt for two more points while a Connellsville player vainly attempts to stop him. Reaching out from a forest of Latrobe and Jeannette arms and bodies is Ray Bridge, trying for a difficult tip-in as his teammates try to give him some help.

VARSITY BASKETBALL—KNEELING: Okonak, J., Donahey. STANDING: Okonak, W., Charlesworth, Ruby, Mueseler, Bridge, Shearen, Joseph, Johnson, Cassidy, Zacur.

The courtmen next traveled to Westinghouse Memorial, and were downed 68–48, by the team that eventually won the sections title.

Visiting the lair of the Wilkinsburg Tigers, the local hardwood team recorded their sixth exhibition win with a close 68–61 victory.

Returning to league play the Cats were unable to ward-off a last minute Jayhawk surge and were downed by Jeannette 70–69. The Wildcats suffered another section setback, this one at the hands of the Hempfield, when the Spartans downed them 62–57 on January 10.

In an important game, the varsity edged the Knights of Norwin 56–51, January 13. Closing out the first half of section play, the Cats overran the Derry Trojans 76–48, January 17. The two wins made Latrobe's midway mark in Section 2-A games read three wins and three losses.

Trying to encourage the basketball team towards victory by giving them helpful advice at time-out are Mr. Eugene Swogger, head coach, and Mr. George Percy, assistant coach.

Up and fighting for possession of the ball, Tom Joseph battles a Jeannette opponent on a jump ball, while Tom Mueseler, Wildcat high-scorer, goes up for the tip-in of his shot against early season opponent Connellsville.

Finishing the exhibition schedule, the Wildcats downed Swissvale 89–70, January 20. The high scoring game was highlighted by the 35 points scored by the Wildcat's Tom Muesseler. The victory gave the cagers the final exhibition record of seven wins against two losses.

The roundballers returned to section games on January 24, when they visited Greensburg and lost 56 to 47. In one of their best played games, Latrobe defeated league-leading Westinghouse Memorial on Latrobe's court.

Continuing to win, the Wildcats beat Jeannette 63–49 on January 31, they next downed the visiting Hempfield squad 83–63, February 7. Latrobe again won at Norwin 81–57, February 10. Season's play ended with a 61–49 victory over Derry Area.

At the conclusion of the schedule, Coach Eugene Swogger Awarded letters to seniors Tim Donahey, Sean Cassidy, Jim Okanak and Jack Ruby. Juniors lettermen were Tom Muesseler, Tom Joseph, Ray Bridge and Alex Zacur. Sophomore Steve Scheeren also won a letter.

The 1967 mat team completed a 14 match schedule with a chart of nine wins and five losses.

In December contests the grapplers turned back the Trojans of Derry Area 39–20. They romped over Penn Joint 35–14 and downed Johnstown 26–22. The latter match ended a ten year jinx. The wrestlers captured their fourth straight victory over Southmoreland 28–20 early in January.

Greensburg-Salem sent the Wildcats to their first defeat 38–14. Coach Creed Westfall's squad trounced the Jauhawks 40–3. New Kensington ripped Latrobe 33–17, Next the Cats bowed to Hempfield 35–17. Rebounding, the Wildcats defeated the Blairsville Bobcats 28–19. The locals received their third defeat where the Wilkinsburg Tigers drowned them 31–14.

At home the matmen nipped Gateway 24–21. Against Mt. Pleasant the Wildcats compiled the highest point total of the campaign, 44–11. County champion Norwin handed Latrobe a 32–12 loss.

LATROBE	12	NORWIN	32
LATROBE	32	UNIONTOWN	16

The mat squad finished the season with a victory over Uniontown. In the County Tournament in the Latrobe gym, Latrobe placed fourth in a field of 12 teams. Fred Betler won the 165 pound class. Three other finalists were Rick Versaw, 95; Greg Mickanac, 103; and Rich Roble, 112.

Four wrestlers, Greg Mickanac, Rich Roble, and Fred Betler, and Pete Ulishney won Section 2 honors. Greg and Rich advanced to the WPIAL tourney before losing.

Coach Creed Westfall awarded letters to seniors Rich Roble, Bob Pastorky, Fred Betler, Ron Rullo and Pete Ulishney. Juniors receiving monograms were Greg Mickanac, Brian Henderson, Leon Baughman, Dennis Schirf, Dave Washburn, and Jim Harris. Rick Versaw, Marty Horzak and Bob Benson were sophomore letter winners.

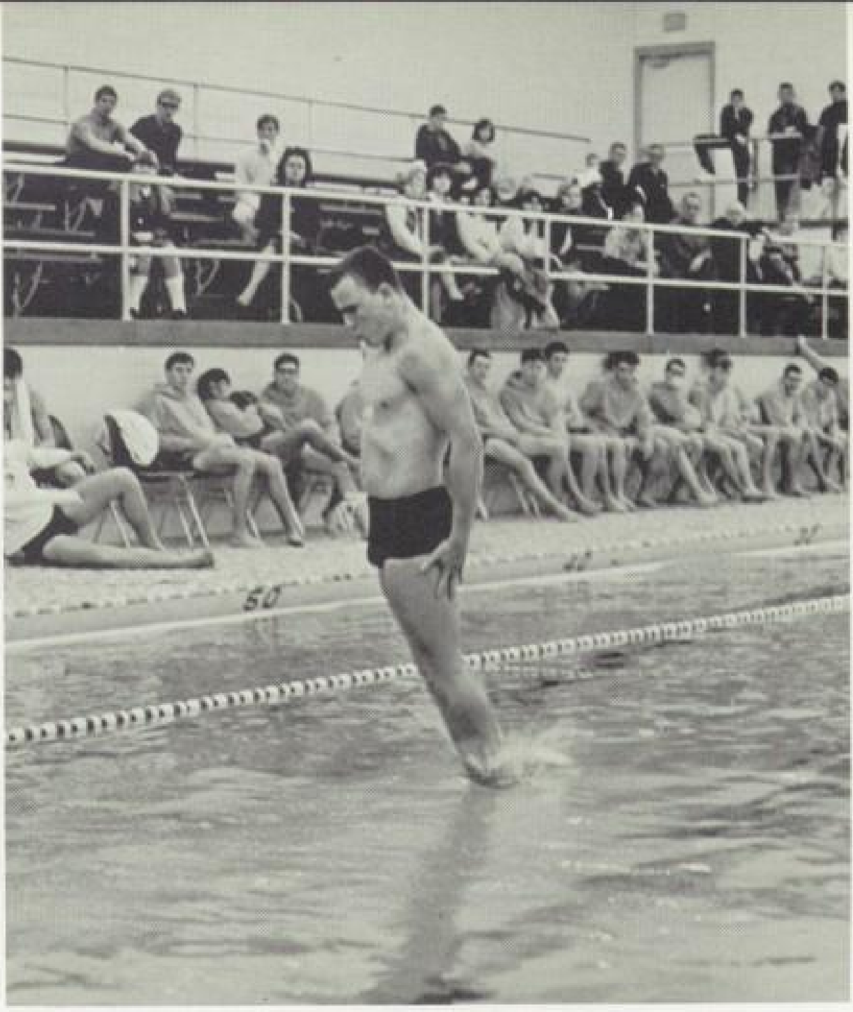
As swim team captain, Robert McIntyre, prepares for a back dive in lay-out position, teammates and spectators watch attentively to find out his total score. This is the first year Latrobe has competed in the sport.



At one of our home swim meets, Pat Arnold hits the water from his back one-and-a-quarter dive, while the opposing team looks on. Here at the end of a race, timers clock in the results of swimmers.

Completing their first year of competition, the swimming team under the direction of Coach Lawrence Altimus compiled a 4-10 record.

In the opener the tankers lost to Kiski, 67-28. In other exhibition contests the aquanauts lost to Greensburg Salen, 75-20 and Hempfield, 64-34 but defeated Belle Vernon, 68-28.

League play found the Cats downing Laurel Highlands twice, 50-45 and 57-38 and Charleroi, 48-46. Losses were inflicted on the Cats by Seneca Valley; 62-25 and 56-39; McKeesport, 48-47 and 56-39; New Kensington, 60-35 and 69-25. Charleroi also defeated the tankers 51-44.

The swimmers finished ninth in the first Westmoreland County Swimming Tournament.

GOLF

In defending their Section IV crown, Coach Robert Cook built the 1967 team around four junior lettermen, Pat Mailey, Ron Lucas, Dave Bendl and Tom Baumgardner.

The linksmen begin play against Bethel Park followed by the Westmont-Hilltop match. Four days later, they face Bethel Park in a rematch. The golfers began section play against Derry Area. Ligonier and Greensburg were the next foes Latrobe played. Derry and Hempfield as well as Jeannette and Ligonier were encountered in triangular meets. The teams from Hempfield and Greensburg were played individually also.

In a final exhibition match, the Wildcats played Westmont, while section play finished against Jeannette.

TENNIS

In the first section match of the season, the Wildcat netters, under the direction of Coach Earl Karasack, faced Mt. Pleasant on April 13.

The Lions of Greensburg-Salem opposed the Cats April 17 in the first away match. Latrobe played Southmoreland next on April 20. The Lorals saw action against Norwin April 24 and Connellsville April 27.

In the second half the Wildcat netters met the same teams during the month of May.

Members of the 1967 tennis squad kneeling are Bret Roach, Bill Stump, Bernie Vittone, Jace Cute, Carl Jansen, Jim Rumbaugh, Standing are Jack Silliman, Bill Townsend, Bob Dowler, Denny Charlesworth, Henry Tonashosky, and Dennis Pushcar. Coach Earl Karasack goes over some defensive moves to be used with Henry Tonashosky and Bob Dowler.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The Wildcat's cross-country compiled a record of two wins and six losses in dual competition during the season.

On the new home course the runners of Coach William West met Southmoreland September 27 and were handed their initial setback. The locals had a first and second performance by Bill Harvey and Ron Johnson. Traveling to Greensburg-Salem September 29 the Wildcats trounced the Lions for Latrobe's first victory of the year. Four teams, Latrobe, Westmont, Connamaugh Valley and Susquehanna Area, competed in a quadrangular contest October 4 with Latrobe finishing first.

SEATED: Nicholas, Brody, Kadlubek, Johnson, Holzer, Svidron, Hauger, Sherba STANDING: Harvey, Collyer, Cassidy, Townshend, Johnson, Charlesworth, Cabana, McFadyen, Klim, Marron, Lunk

On October 6 the runners fell prey to the Raiders of Uniontown and the Norwin Knights defeated the locals October 11 at the Norwin course. A strong Gateway team outlasted the Wildcats in competition on October 13. In the final home action the Tigers of Wilkinsburg emerged victorious. Rounding out dual competition the Connellsville Falcons defeated the Housiers on October 25.

Multi-team competition saw the thinclads finish sixth out of eight teams at the Uniontown invitational September 19 as Bill Harvey nabbed fifth place.

At the WPIAL Qualifier the squad placed fifth out of eight teams and qualified Bill Harvey, who finished third. The following week Bill finished twelfth in the state event.

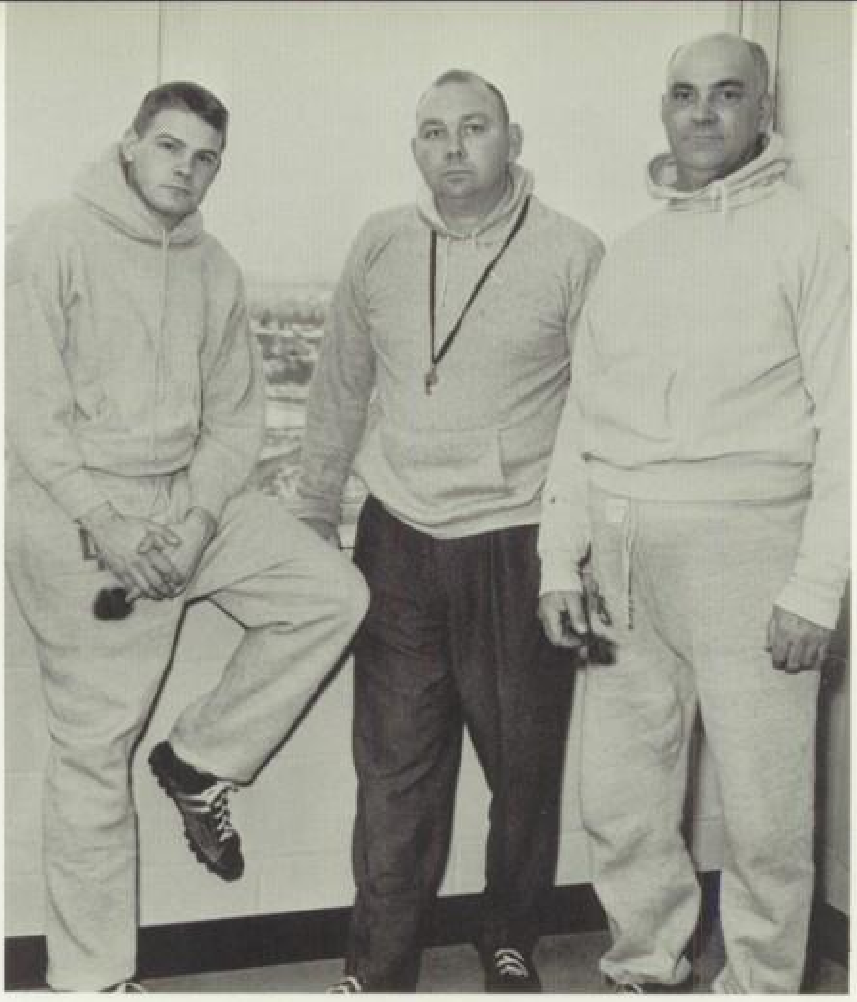
Mr. William West, cross-country coach, congratulates William Harvey, outstanding distance man, for the Wildcat's who finished twelfth in state competition after placing first in several school meets.



Varsity Track Coach Mr. David Graham, Mr. William West and Mr. John Charlesworth meet to consider the entrants for the different events in an upcoming dual meet.

TRACK

Approximately 90 prospective trackmen reported early in March to begin practice sessions for 1967 schedule.

Coach William West had nine returning lettermen as a foundation for the team. Junior lettermen reporting were Tom Joseph, Ron Johnson and Tony Eupizi. Seniors with past experience were Ron Fetter, George Suchan, Nick Brody, Joe Knaus, Joe Dudzinsky and Bill Karazsia.

The Cats opened the season April 7 with Norwin High. In their first triangular meet of the season, the cindermen hosted the Mt. Pleasant and Wilkinsburg squads April 11. The trackmen engaged Hempfield in an away meet April 13 before participating in the Indiana Invitational Meet on April 15.

Ligonier and Franklin Regional invaded Latrobe's homeground on April 19 to compete with the Cats. Jeannette and Derry Area opposed Coach West's team in home action April 21 and 26, respectively. The action for this month was completed at Greensburg-Salem April 28 and at the WPIAL Relays at Penn Hills the following day.

Kiski Area, Westmont and Connellsville provided the opposition for the cindermen in their final three dual meets. The WPIAL Qualifier and the Westmoreland County Meet were held at Latrobe Memorial Stadium May 11 and 16, respectively.

The WPIAL Meet May 20 at Penn Hills and the PIAA Meet May 27 at Penn State ended the high school track season.

Attempting to edge out two Connellsville winners for a first and second place in the 220 yard run, Latrobe cindermen Bill Karaszia and Jim Harris put forth a final effort to finish first.

Ronald Johnson nears the finish line in high hurdles competition. Ronald Fetter completes his final run in the triple jump as Coach William West observes his efforts before suggesting possible improvements.

INTRAMURALS

Volleyball championships were determined after a month of teams playing after school in the gym. The supervisors were Miss Carole Blair and Miss Joan Murphy.

Games were held until the two teams with the best record were left. The girls played in a decisive two-game match with the senior team, "Untouchables," the victor.

As an added attraction the winning team got to play a team of women's faculty members who volunteered their sportsmanship for a game held after school. The seniors beat their opponents by scores of 21-1, and 21-19.

With the addition of swimming to the regular gym class instruction, another intramural activity began for girls.

For the first time swimming teams were organized and meets were held after school in the pool area with the different girls teams swimming against each other in competition.

The girls organized their own teams and chose names for their respective teams. Some of the events included freestyle, butterfly, breaststroke, medley and relay.

Girls Intramural Basketball Champions include the following: Schisler, Hilty, Pagnanelli, Shank, Odorisio, McFadden, S., Gower, Kadlubek, Thomas, Hamilton, Deely, McFadden, L., Kissell. Teams from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes took part in the eliminations. Ellen Odorisio charges in for a lay-up while her teammates seek to help her with the shot.

This year, as in other years, girls participated in intramural basketball teams. Games took place during the month of March under the direction of Miss Joan Murphy and Miss Carole Blair, girls gym teachers.

Holding the outstanding record in this event also was a senior team. The girls played two games after school each night until all but the two highest scoring teams remained.

The play-off was held in two games with the final scores 13–0 and 12–1.

Female teachers formed a team for a playoff with the winning team and the game was held after school. The teachers made a good showing.

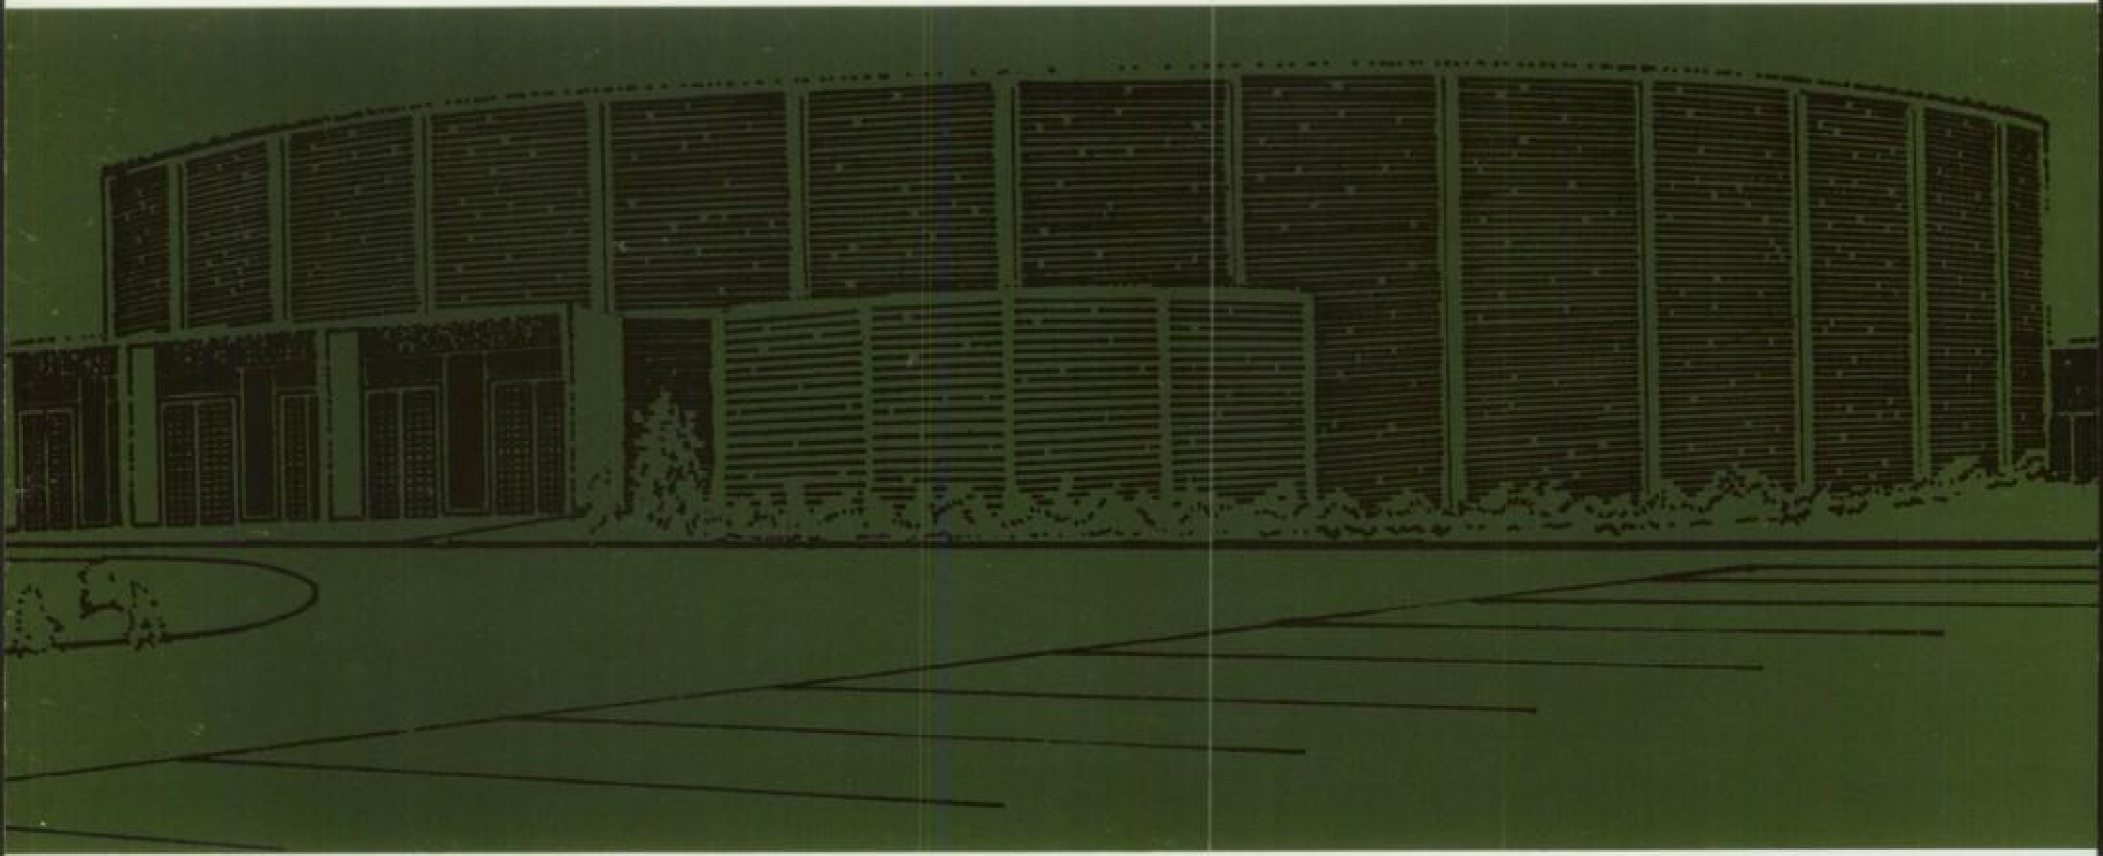
Winning the first girl's intramural swim competition was a team consisting of STANDING: Mattock, McIntyre, Ruby, Kattana, Frederick, Morelli, ROW TWO: Baker, Lynch, Hartman, Noel, Claycomb, ROW THREE: Silvis, Deichert.

Some 1325 tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders attended classes in the new seven complex senior high this school year.

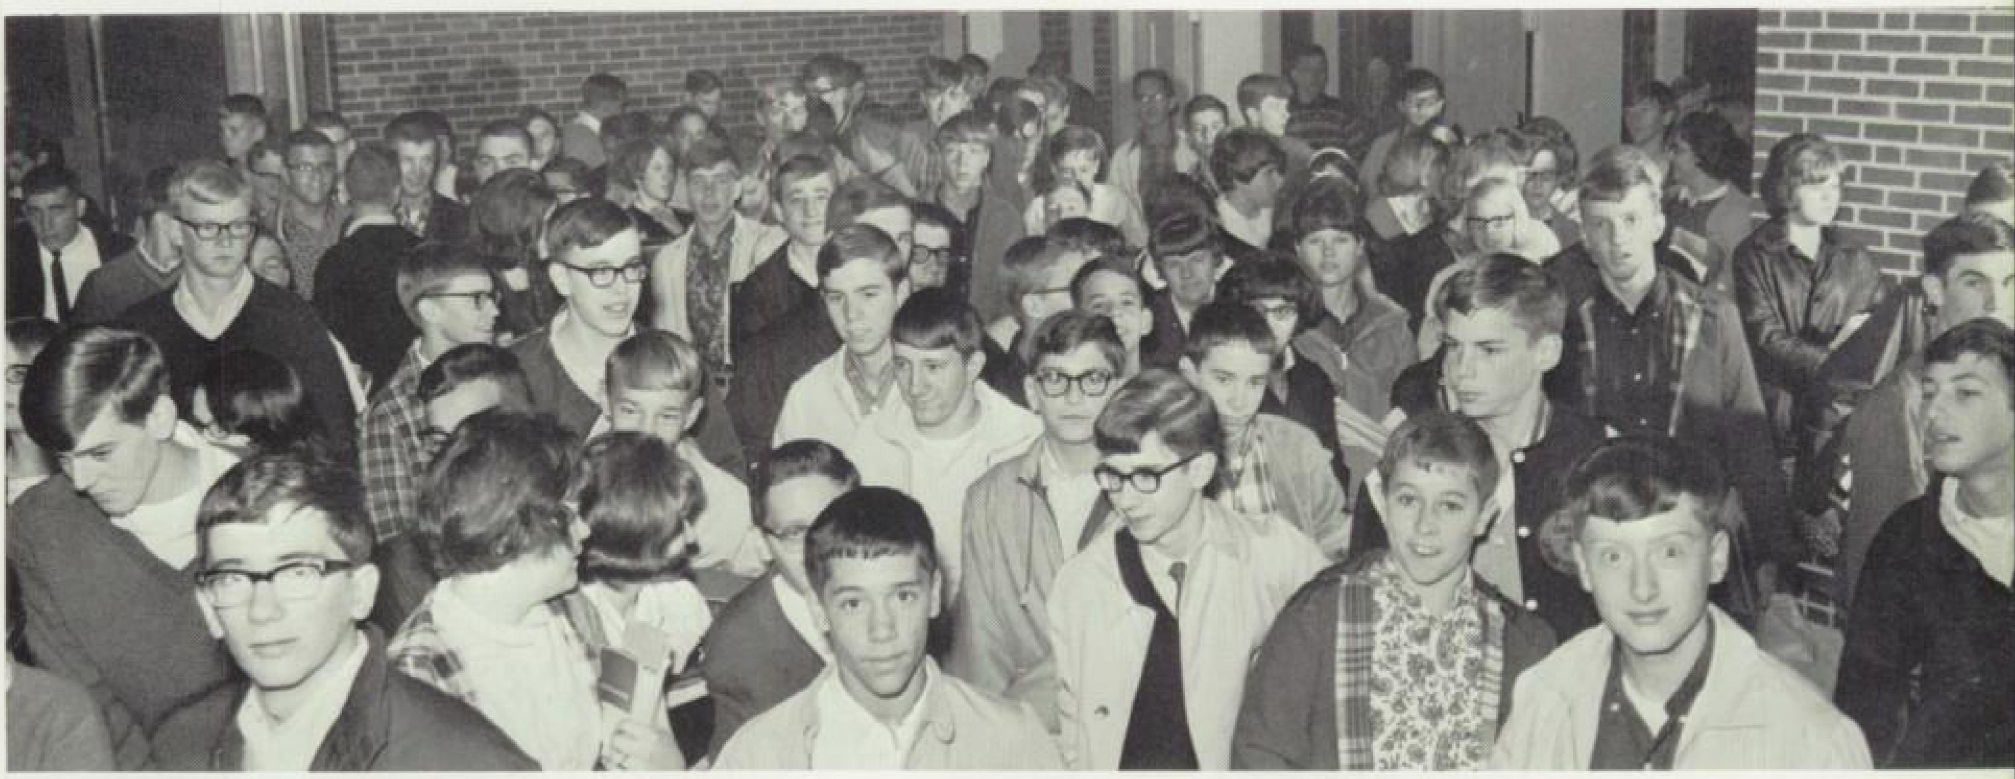
For them certain highlights will linger for a long time. For the just completed 180 day term held many firsts—the cafeteria, swimming pool, planetarium, language labs. The successful production of "Lil' Abner" was also a first for Latrobe.

Among the activities for students in the three classes were the traditional events—plays, forensic contests, dances, club meetings, honorary societies, music and the junior-senior prom. In addition, the world of interscholastic sports kept many of the boys very busy. An intramural program interested the boys.

Certainly the three classes enjoyed the challenges of a new school.



Classes



SOPHOMORES

No longer confused and uncertain ninth graders, the Sophomore Class accepted more responsibilities in second year endeavors.

As the 1966-67 school term progressed in new surroundings, the tenth graders participated in extra-curricular activities open to them.

Three sophomores, Cheryl Duranko, Linda Eupizi, and Joanne Hovanec, displayed dramatic ability in the All-Class play, "Stranger in the Night."

Boys showed their athletic ability in the sports of football, track, basketball, wrestling, cross-country, golf, tennis, and the new swimming program. Girls participated actively in intramural basketball, volleyball, and swimming competition.

Highlights of the year included writing autobiographies, discovering interests in journalism, and broadcasting classes, and examining biology through research papers, dissecting, and going on field trips.

During the early weeks of school, members of the class chose officers. Those elected to lead the sophomores were Stewart Sapp, president; James Siko, vice-president; Michele O'Barto, secretary; Paulette Kissell, treasurer; and Joette Collier, Student Council representative. Miss Virginia Daniels was adviser.

While using the new study corrals for individual work in the new library, Elaine Aukerman and Peggy Shiffler finish writing their special assignments for World Culture class.

JUNIORS

Class officers discuss decorations, orchestra

In the informal gathering in the library, class officers formulate plans for the Junior-Senior Prom. Talking matters over are Dennis Charlesworth, president; Jack Allison, vice-president; Lisa Hauser, secretary; Tamra Lutz, Student Council; Christine Baughman, treasurer.

As the 1966-1967 school term ended, the juniors prepared to assume the responsibilities of leadership as seniors.

To prepare for this role, the juniors participated in many activities. About 25 of the class were members in Girls Chorus II, while 20 sing in the Mixed Chorus. There were 15 in the band and over 20 in the Junior Red Cross. Many others participated in the orchestra, Modern Language Club, Senior Classical League and Business, Pep and Reader's Clubs and as librarians.

Showing ability for dramatics were Louis Dolinar, Faith Ann Fiorina, Lisa Hauser and Barry Wagner, who took part in the All-Class play, "Stranger in the Night." Still others enacted roles in their class production.

Those interested in forensics were able to participate in the Ruth Robb Debate, Kiwanis Extemporaneous Speaking Contests and the Women's Club Declamations, Shakespearian or Poetry Reading Contests.

During the first weeks of school, the juniors elected officers to serve them. They included the following: Dennis Charlesworth, president; Jack Allison, vice-president; Lisa Hauser, secretary; Christine Baughman, treasurer; and Tamara Lutz, Student Council representative. Mr. Lee Henderson served as adviser.

"Wasn't that an interesting assembly today?" comments Sylvia Ann Beeghly to fellow classmate Sandy McFeaters as they leave the auditorium to return to their next class.

Looking over a recently received shipment of new books, Sandy Bingaman, Alice Bell, Caroline Andros and Christine Baughman know which ones they wish to check-out.

Filing and cataloguing the many books in the new library is but one of the various jobs carried out by student librarian Marlene Rabic, a junior.

SENIORS

The year 1966-67 marked a year of memories, realities and hopes for the members of the Senior Class as they began to prepare for their life away from high school.

Four years ago, as confused and worried freshmen they entered a new school. Last fall, as seniors, they again entered a new school—this time with confidence. By adapting quickly to the new routine, they showed the maturity they gained in those earlier years.

They work for the future. Almost 40 per cent of the Senior class planned to enter college. Contests like the senior orations and the extemps showed their ideas and speaking ability. Three seniors received letters of commendation for their scores on the National Merit Examinations.

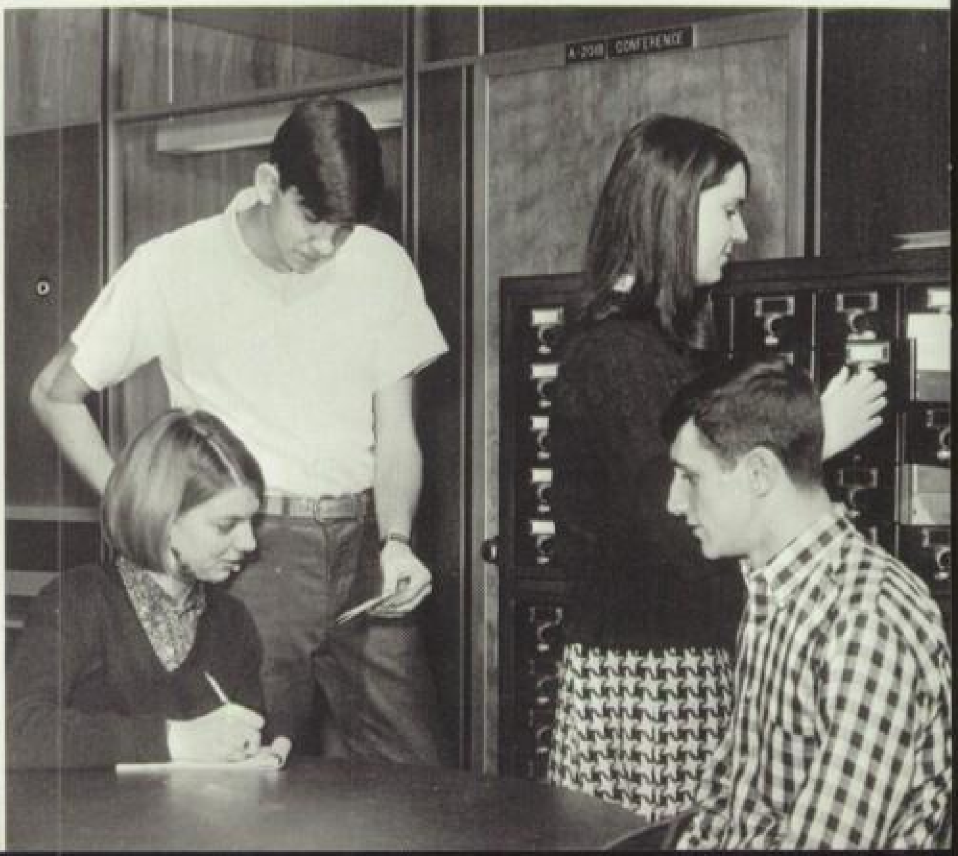
In last year's college boards, eight seniors turned in scores over 600 in the verbal section, 15 in the math division. For outstanding scholastic achievement, the Kiwanis Club selected one senior boy each month to attend their dinners. Seniors participated in the All Class play and starred in the Senior Class dramatic production.

As the first class to graduate from this school, they set new traditions. Chief among these was the newly-designed senior ring. Modernly styled in gold and black onyx, they were symbolic of the first graduating seniors.

Early in the term class officers were elected. Serving were Dennis Rafferty, president; Debbie Coblentz, vice-president; Debbie Ashley, secretary; Marsha Campbell, treasurer; and Jackie Cochran, Student Council representative.

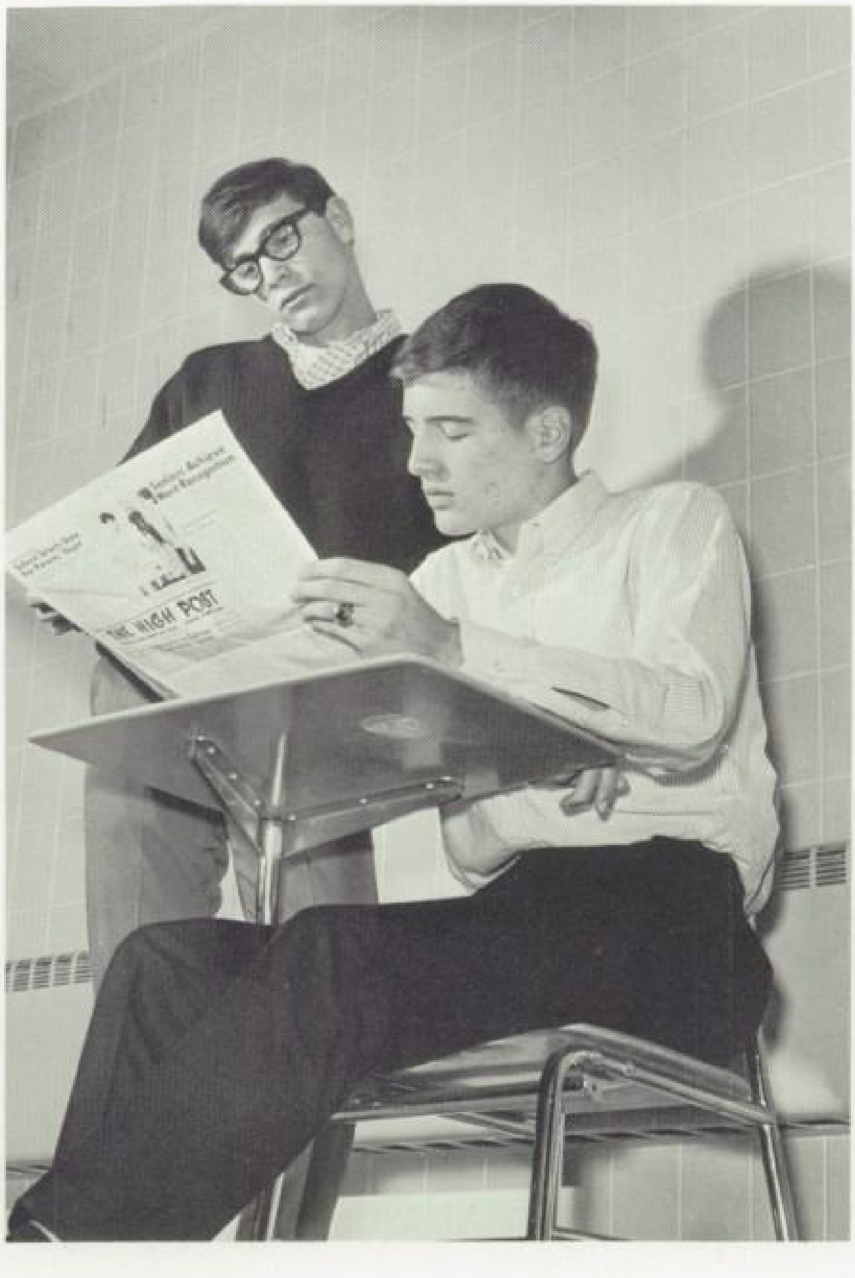
During a demonstration period in the creative arts department, Ed Sledge explains his sketches and miniature model living area to fellow classmates Cheryl Kabala and Pat Steele.

Looking through the files in the library for information on reports and extra facts on subjects are seniors Anita Kozak, Joe Camaione, Linda Kostelnik and Bill Karazsia.



Taking a short break between their classes, Jim Okonak and Irene Watkins pause to appreciate the panoramic view of the surrounding countryside. Josepha Kraker, Peggy Merzenski, Jeanne Marron, and LaVerne Kemeter show their senior class rings to each other.

Keeping informed on school news by way of "The High Post" are Seniors Jim Panichelli and student service member Sam Dugan.



Putting to good use the experience she has gained in homemaking is Dorothy Leonard, who is sewing a party dress in preparation for the senior dinner dance.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

Every year ten seniors outstanding in academic and extracurricular activities are honored their fellow classmates. These ten symbolize the hard work that goes into being a top student.

Mary Poklembo honored for her high scholastic standing. A member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and the recipient of the Renesseler and Baush and Lomb awards.

Senior class president Dennis Rafferty revealed leadership qualities through membership in the National Honor Society, Modern Language Club. He was the Alpha Theta president and a football letterman.

First trumpet player, Richard Riggs, participated in District and County bands and a member of the Stage Band for three years.

Football and track letterman William Karazsia was named as outstanding in athletics. He was also president of the Junior Class and vice-president of MLC and his senior homeroom. Mildred Lazur president of the Business Education Club, member of the National Honor society and majorette received the Commercial recognition.

In the field of journalism Phyllis McCarthy excelled. As Latrobean editor she also, was a member of Quill and Scroll, French National Honor society and Mixed Chorus.

As Edward Sledge, recipient of the industrial arts award, talks to Phyllis Otto, outstanding senior in dramatics, Thom Myers, forensics winner, and Phyllis McCarthy, outstanding journalist, listen attentively.

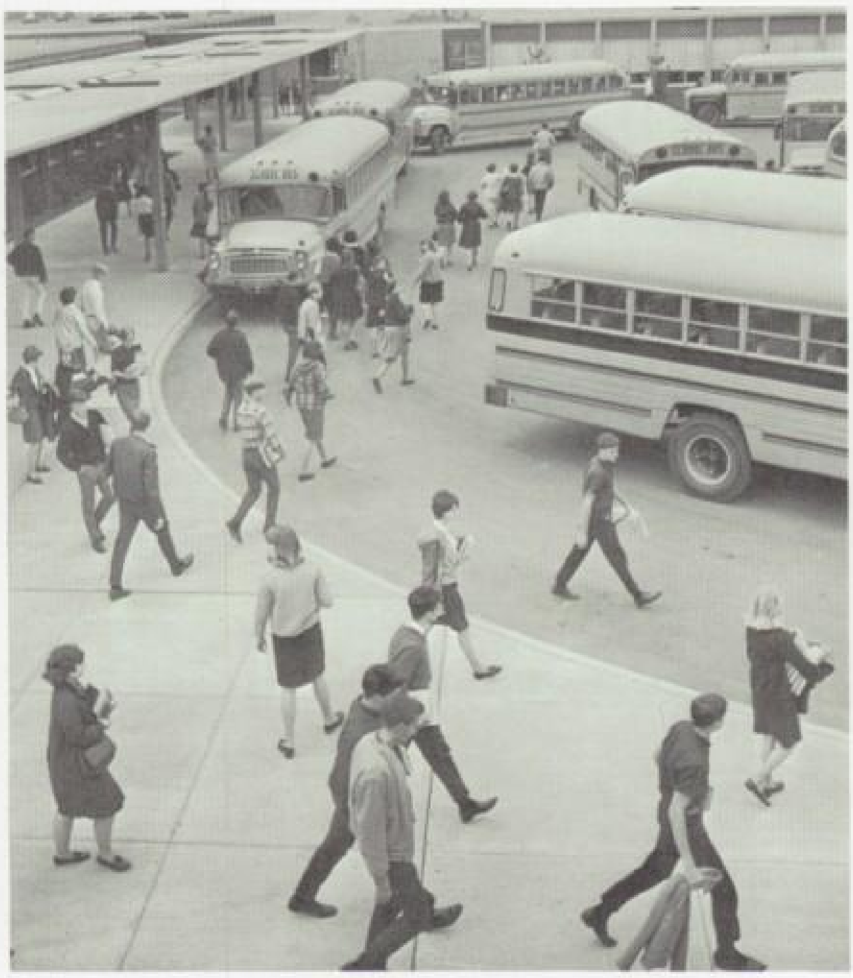
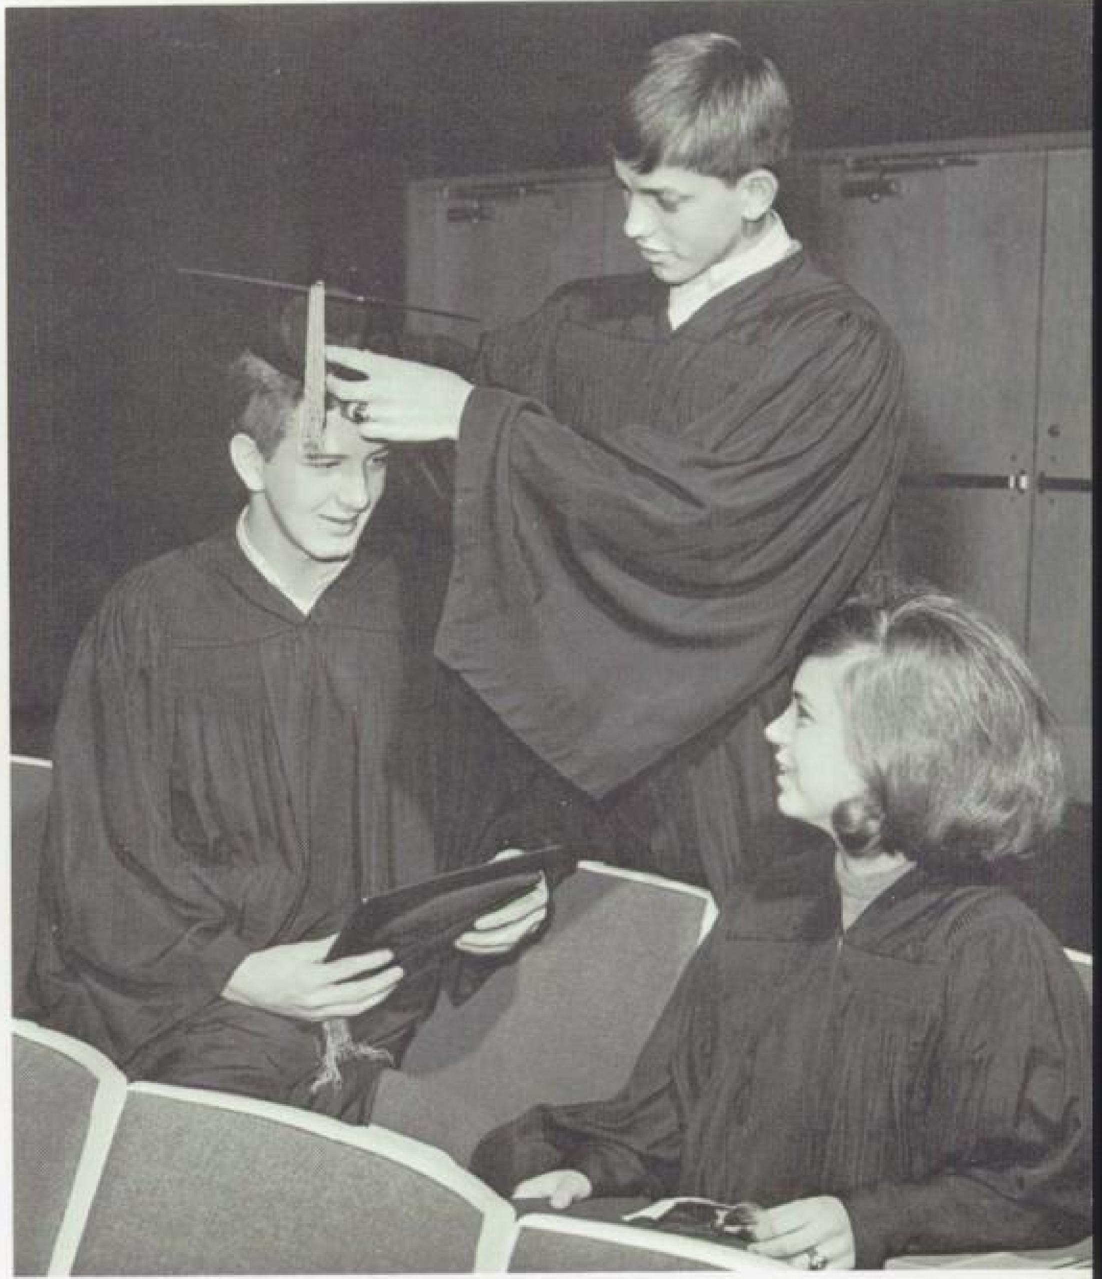
Tea, graduation conclude school days for seniors



After the last bell has rung, signaling the end of another school day, students hurry to their buses which will drop them off conveniently near their homes.



At commencement practice in the auditorium, Ken Goodman, Vic Koski and Marsha Campbell try on their caps and gowns, the symbol of their achievements at Latrobe High.

The new Home Economics Department provides many opportunities for aspiring young homemakers. Preparing a table setting for a meal is just one of the training steps in their course.

1967

Holding the flag of their class, Richard Riggs, Dave Rollins, and Jean Ridilla discuss the other traditions that accompany the various activities of the graduating class.

LIVE TO SERVE . . .

No price can be placed on a memory. It can only be evaluated as a priceless gift to be treasured always.

We, the editors of the 1967 "Latrobean," have attempted to preserve a few of these wonderful moments that can never be again. With the constant aid of junior reporters and that of the adviser, we have tried to compile the highlights of the nine months in a new school.

Memories are priceless gifts. It is our sincerest hope that the events recaptured throughout the book will bring back some of these cherished gifts when looked at sometime in the future.

These are the times that try men's souls.
The summer soldier and the sunshine patroit will,
in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country;
but he that stands it now,
deserves the love and thanks of man and woman.

Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered;
yet we have this consolation with us,
that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph.
What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly;
'tis dearness only that gives everything its value.

Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods;
and it would be strange indeed,
if so celestial an article as Freedom
should not be highly rated.

- WISELY

in your future

- CAREFULLY
- THOROUGHLY—

TODAY—that you may choose with wisdom a walk of life which will bring to you the satisfaction of success and happiness; and develop with care those educational opportunities which can make the most cherished dreams a reality.

TOMORROW—that you may exercise with care the responsibilities each of us must exercise toward his career—his family—his church—his community—his country.
